PREFACE TO THE FIRST EDITION

Today it has become necessary and very important for executive board of directors, managers, entrepreneurs, academics, diplomats, civil society professionals, pilots, tourists, trade unionists, Heads of Governments, Monarchy Rulers, government ministers or governors, politicians, medical professionals, engineers, journalists, teachers, students and many other professionals to be well educated about the: history, laws, demographics, political, economic and tourism information of various countries. The modern day world we are now living is now strongly shaped by the international stature, the conservation of the natural environment, tourism, respect for human rights, democracy, peace and education levels of countries. It has now become inevitable for countries to place more value towards improving their nation brands, democracy & promotion of basic human rights principles, education systems and so on since this ultimately leads to increased: economic development, foreign direct investments, tourism, foreign currency reserves, academic literacy, happiness, employment levels and better quality of life. Interestingly, nowadays a sense of national pride and loyalty amongst citizens in a country is strongly interrelated to its: nation brand value, employment levels, humanity, economic growth, low corruption levels, peace initiatives, democracy & human rights culture, unity & reconciliation efforts, various initiatives to build its human capital, moral behavior of its leaders and so on. One of the key aims of this book was to help highlight a common phenomenon found in most of the dominant countries in the world in particular why they are very successful. And one of the reason involves the fact that they consistently invest more resources towards ensuring that their social institutions, democratic & human rights laws and technological innovativeness is maintained in a transparent manner while simultaneously placing more emphasis on uplifting their rich cultural traditions which enable them to boost their national happiness indexes. Another key aim of this book was to help highlight the essence behind the natural beauty, pristine wilderness, rich cultural traditions, democracy and the modernization of infrastructure in a country and how it helps countries to be successfully ranked as 'Amazingly Beautiful Countries'. The purpose of this book was to educate readers about the various global indexes that help to measure aspects such as: nation brands, happiness, corruption, democracy, economic development, prosperity, peace and governance rankings of a country in comparison to other countries in a region or around the world. Another key aim of this book was to promote global travel amongst the citizens of different countries around the world by highlighting summarized basic information of several ‘Amazingly Beautiful Countries’ located in Western Europe, Africa, Asia, Latin America, Oceania and North America by publishing a free eBook and a print hard copy since a book is ‘a source of wisdom’ that can positively influence others. I noticed that in this life we live today humanity can only progress through consistent learning or knowledge sharing and the desire for consistent learning can only be strengthened through book writing in various career-fields.

I would also like to take this opportunity to greatly thank my late parents, aunties and uncles for the great role they played in my childhood. Furthermore, I shall forever be grateful to the great men and women in the continent of Africa, North America, Europe, Latin America, Middle East, Oceania and Asia who contributed towards the writing of this book in particular all the named leading 'iconic' entrepreneurs, business leaders, organizations & the various information sources cited in this book.

Chapter 1: United States of America, Switzerland, the United Kingdom & Republic of India

After reading this chapter you should be able to:

- Define the following terms ‘world’ and ‘national reconciliation’.
- Discuss the key differences between the United States of America, Switzerland, the United Kingdom & Republic of India.
- Explain why the United States of America, Switzerland, the United Kingdom & Republic of India are part of the ‘28 Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’.

1.1 Introduction

Historically all the corners of the world have one thing in common they ‘all enjoy together’ that is ‘the beauty of national geographical boundaries’ accompanied by their natural vegetation and all living organisms. The world is naturally beautiful and there are many countries that have overtime managed to: (1) invest a lot of their resources (namely: financial, technological, human etc), (2) learn from their past mistakes, (3) rebrand their national identities, (4) strengthen their social institutions, (5) uphold human rights, democracy & freedom principles, (5) promote unity, love, peace, diversity & inclusion amongst their people, (6) promote their tourist attraction destinations and so on in order to succeed to become some of the most amazing countries in the world for example the United States of America, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and the Republic of India. Generally the benchmarking of countries on aspects such as happiness, beauty, peace, democracy and the upholding of human rights helps to: entrench a culture of better governance, practice exemplary leadership amongst government leaders, maintain consistent societal development, achieve improved foreign relations & nation branding strategies, maintain increased foreign direct investments, achieve increased tourist arrivals, maintain improved standards of living and so on. The world has evolved over the past decades and it has ‘become inevitable’ for countries and their citizens to ignore the strong interrelationship between experiencing good human rights, democracy, governance and freedoms in a country to: (1) increased tourist arrivals, (2) high foreign direct investments, (3) peace, (4) unity, (5) happiness, (6) prosperity & nation branding rankings, (7) global university rankings,

(8) quality of life, (9) increased export markets, (10) succeeding to be nominated to host major global events on issues such as climate change, sports, tourism, business, health, human rights, music awards/festivals and so on. Thus it has become very important for countries to ensure that they prioritize their national image or international stature in order to strengthen their international diplomacy excellence on issues related to climate change, sports, tourism, business, health, human rights and so on. Some of the world's renowned amazingly beautiful nations include the United States of America, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and the Republic of India and they will be discussed in this chapter. The following section will cover in-depth aspects related to the definition of terms.

1.2 Define the following terms 'world' and 'national reconciliation'

Today they are various definitions of the terms 'world' and 'national reconciliation' that were authored by various academics and business gurus. <sup>1</sup>“The term 'national reconciliation' is when a country and its people from all walks of life (in terms of different age groups, gender, religion, political opinion, marital status, race and so on) decide to reach-out to each other in solidarity of achieving mutual relations, cooperation, peace, the rule of law, promotion & protection of freedoms/human rights with the main aim of developing their country's sovereign wealth, legacy and unity” (Rudolph. Patrick. Tawanda. Muteswa, 2021:42). In addition the definition of the term 'world' refers to everything that we see and touch from the North, South East or West in all the countries (Rudolph. Patrick. Tawanda. Muteswa, 2021:139). The following section will cover the differences between the United States of America, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and the Republic of India.

1.3 Key differences between the United States of America, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and the Republic of India

In general there are various differences amongst countries and thus it is important for scholars to identify these differences for further research purposes. The differences between the United

1.4 United States of America, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and the Republic of India

This educational textbook will cover detailed, relevant and modern information about the ‘28 Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’ and these are further explained below.

1.4.1 United States of America

In this 21st century the United States of America is the world’s most popular, celebrated and highly distinguished nation in the world due to its military prowess, powerful nation brand, exemplary government leadership, globally present diplomatic missions, strategic foreign alliance partnerships, tech-savvy culture, globally focused humanitarian aid assistance and so on. The United States of America is the world’s unquestionable economic, technological, democratic and highly innovative military powerhouse. <sup>6</sup>“The United States is a country located in North America bordering the Atlantic Ocean and Pacific Ocean. Neighboring countries are Canada and Mexico. The geography of the United States is varied with mountains in the west, a broad central plain, and low mountains in the east” (Michigan State University, 2021, <https://globaledge.msu.edu/countries/united-states>). <sup>789</sup>Furthermore, according to the Michigan

Washington, DC: Central Intelligence Agency, 2021, <https://www.cia.gov/the-world-factbook/countries/united-states/>). The dominance and traditional exemplary leadership of the United States of America over the past decades has managed to make America to successfully achieve the following: (1) boost its international stature, (2) become a fountain of international diplomacy excellence, (3) become highly attractive to foreign investors as a safe and stable economy, (4) become a thriving technology and new innovative inventions hub, (5) positively promote & protect democracy, human rights and freedoms within its shores and other various parts of the world, (6) become an outstanding global leader through investing and maintaining world peace, food security, humanitarian and educational aid, (7) play a key role towards positively promoting global climate change literacy & environment protection initiatives, (8) become a high value, supportive, loyal and strategic partner in most economic regions around the world and so on. The pillar that has made the United States of America one of the best nations in the world is the unity, peace and exemplary leadership it enjoys in its society. Today the United States of America is one of the most supportive nations in the world due to its values centered society and democratic principles that reach beyond its national borders via its thriving entertainment industry, tourism, higher tertiary education programs, diplomacy excellence, technologies, medical science and so on. Furthermore, the USA's national flag and national identity have been successfully strategically positioned to become powerful brands (that signify a culture of peace, democracy, human rights, loyalty to allies, strength, heroism, excellent results & a better standard of life for all) on the global arena.<sup>12</sup>“Over the past seventy years, Democratic and Republican administrations alike have understood that American security and prosperity at home are linked to economic and political health abroad, and that America does better when other countries have the incentive and the capacity to work alongside us in tackling global challenges.”” (Hadley, S. of The United States Institute of Peace, 2017, <https://www.usip.org/publications/2017/03/americas-role-world>). Generally there are various reasons why people love to live, work and identify with the beautiful great nation of the United States of America. <sup>13</sup>According to John Mason International (2020) whether you’re chasing a job, a loved one or simply the American Dream, the USA remains one of the most popular destinations. The original ‘melting pot’ nation, America has a long tradition of welcoming all cultures and backgrounds and is a truly great place. It is very much still the land of opportunity.

Healthcare. Healthcare in US is amongst the very best in the world. Well funded hospitals, well trained staff and world leading medical innovation means you can be confident you will receive the very best treatment should you need it. Economic Strength. Her economic strength has helped the USA weather the storms of global depression and financial crises. The US dollar is the World’s primary reserve currency, a sure sign of stability and respect. Career Opportunities. America is a country that works hard and takes pride in what they do. Earning a living is something Americans take pride in and do well with only 5.5% of the population unemployed. The US also regularly ranks in the top five countries in the world for workforce productivity.

Natural Beauty. While we’re on the subject of America’s wide-open spaces, they’re not just abundant, they’re also spectacularly beautiful. There are vast lakes the size of a small country, rugged mountain ranges to ski and climb and coastlines spanning two oceans. From the Grand Canyon to the Everglades, there are so many natural wonders to explore, the difficult choice is where to start. The USA’s 58 National Parks and countless managed parks and wilderness areas are populated by an incredibly diverse ecosystem. It is home to 784 different species of birds, 428 different mammals and 606 different reptiles and amphibians. Weather. America’s vast size means you’ll find a climate to suit your needs. From the year round sunshine of California to the ice bound winters of Alaska, the USA has it all. There are even desert plains and tropical regions, if that’s your cup of tea. Culinary Culture. Food and drink is a serious business across the USA.

There are over 600,000 restaurants serving recipes from every corner of the world to suit every taste and budget. Even small towns will have serious, independent restaurateurs serving delicious food in a friendly environment. This is most definitely a country that takes pride in its food and sees even the humble breakfast as an opportunity for culinary exploration<sup>14</sup> (John Mason International, 2020, <https://www.johnmason.com/usa/top-10-reasons-move-usa-2/>).

1.4.2 Switzerland (Swiss Confederation)

Switzerland is a Western Europe-based nation that is globally known as the hub of international diplomacy excellence, humanity, banking, modern green energy architecture, museums, higher learning education, culinary tourism, a top tourist destination and so on. Over the past number of years Switzerland has been ranked as having the highest: quality of life, valuable nation brand, diverse culture and natural beauty in the world. Switzerland is also home to world class universities and a top notch schooling system that is offered using different languages.<sup>15</sup> “Happy Country. According to the Happy Planet Index, Switzerland ranks 24th in the world. It combines four elements to show how efficiently residents of different countries are using environmental resources to lead long, happy lives. Switzerland is in the Top 10 in three of these categories. The country is also known for being pacifists and always staying neutral to avoid conflicts. Diversity and Culture. Switzerland is known to be diverse, and not just geographically. With over 600 museums, this country is the perfect place for lovers of everything art. Rich in culture and arts the Swiss are especially known for their talent in crafts like watchmaking. One thing about the Swiss people is they do not forget their old traditions by keeping them alive with pride. Healthy Lifestyle. Swiss people are known for leading healthy lifestyles and for their great healthcare system.” (Merxha, V., 2020, <https://studyinginswitzerland.com/why-switzerland-is-best-country/>). In general Switzerland is known as one of the friendliest nation in the world as a result of: (1) its significant financial contributions towards peacekeeping and peace in international world bodies that focus on peace such as the United Nations, (2) it is home

1.4.3 United Kingdom (UK)

The United Kingdom is a Western Europe-based nation that is globally recognized as having beautiful nature reserves, art museums, historical architecture, world's largest library archives, military prowess, a globally celebrated & popular Monarch & Royal Family, hosting major global events (for example, sports, music, the G-7 summits, climate change & so on), culinary exploration, multicultural diverse population, tourist attraction destinations, modern infrastructure accompanied by a highly functional education system, democratic institutions and rule of law (Rudolph. Patrick. T. Muteswa, 2021). Historically the United Kingdom is globally known for its contribution towards promoting education and critical initiatives around peacebuilding and conflict resolution advocacy around the world. <sup>17</sup>According to the British Council (2021) The UK is a country with rich history and culture, stunning countryside, paired with world-leading modern art, design, culture, fashion and sport. From bustling cities to snow-capped mountains, rolling green hills to highlands and islands, the UK is beautiful and exploring is a must. Its relatively small size and good transport links mean that you can see a lot while you are here. There are four nations that make up the UK: England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland. Scotland. The UK's northernmost country, Scotland is a stunning mix of wild beauty and buzzing cities. From the capital city Edinburgh, home to the iconic hilltop castle and the world's biggest arts festival, to the mountain wilderness of the Highlands, and the miles of untouched beaches dotted along the coastline, Scotland has a lot to offer. Wales. With three national parks – Snowdonia, the Pembrokeshire Coast and Brecon Beacons – covering twenty per cent of Wales, it goes without saying that it's home to some stunning landscapes. As well as the mountain ranges, rugged coastline and historic capital, Cardiff, Wales is famous for its distinctive Welsh language and love of sport. Northern Ireland. Northern Ireland is a country renowned for its friendly people and natural beauty. In the capital Belfast, you'll find a great mix of nightlife and history. Venture to more rural areas to see stunning coastline, such as the Giant's Causeway, the famous natural rock formation that has many a legend associated with it. England.

1.5 Conclusion

It can be concluded that the beauty of a country is guided by its human rights, democracy, freedoms, peace, unity, governance and climate change principles or records as these factors are strongly interrelated to (1) increased tourist arrivals, (2) high foreign direct investments, (3) peace, (4) unity, (5) happiness, (6) prosperity & nation branding rankings, (7) global university rankings, (8) quality of life, (9) increased export markets in a country. In this modern day world the United States of America, Switzerland, the Republic of India and the United Kingdom have become part of the amazingly beautiful countries in the world to live, work, partner and trade with due to their strong stable economies, good governance and democracy principles. In conclusion it has become inevitable for prosperity to remain consistent or achievable in the long

1.6 Discussion questions

- 1) Briefly define the following terms ‘world’ and ‘national reconciliation’?
- 2) List the key differences between the United States of America, Switzerland, the United Kingdom & Republic of India?
- 3) Discuss in greater detail why the United States of America, Switzerland, the United Kingdom & Republic of India are part of the ‘28 Best & Most Beautiful Countries in the World’?

Chapter 2: The Federal Republic of Germany, Republic of Zambia & Republic of South Africa

After reading this chapter you should be able to:

- Define the following terms ‘benefit’ and ‘branding’.
- Discuss the key differences between The Federal Republic of Germany, Republic of Zambia & Republic of South Africa.
- Explain why The Federal Republic of Germany, Republic of Zambia & Republic of South Africa are part of the ‘28 Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’.

2.1 Introduction

The nation brand value of countries is now playing a critical role in their global rankings as the ‘World’s Amazingly Beautiful Countries’ and interestingly The Federal Republic of Germany, the Republic of Zambia & the Republic of South Africa are some of the most valued nation brands in the world. The Federal Republic of Germany, the Republic of Zambia & the Republic of South Africa are now some of the ‘World’s Amazingly Beautiful’ as a result of the following: (1) highly functional social institutions, (2) peacebuilding initiatives, (3) foreign diplomacy excellence, (4) popular music and dances, (5) economic growth, (6) increased foreign direct investments (FDI) rates, (7) increasing climate change literacy, (8) the promotion & respecting of human rights, democracy and freedoms, (9) highly skilled workforce, (10) international cooperation with global institutions, (11) internationally recognized immigration policies, (12) multicultural & diverse societies and so on. Today the Republic of Zambia & the Republic of South Africa have become the major key players in the tourism, arts/entertainment, information technology, mining and manufacturing sectors on the continent of Africa and this has greatly increased their nation brands values or international statures via high tourist arrivals, high export rates, high foreign currency earnings, global university rankings, global recognition for the promotion of human rights & democracy principles and so on. The Republic of Zambia & the Republic of South Africa are globally renowned for being rich in mineral resources and implementing highly advanced infrastructure development projects on the continent of Africa. The following section will cover in-depth aspects related to the definition of terms.

2.2 Define the following terms ‘benefit’ and ‘branding’

Most of the words that are used in the academic field nowadays have numerous definitions that have been developed by industry experts and academics. <sup>26</sup>“The term ‘benefit’ refers to something an individual, group, entity or organization will gain after consuming, doing, giving, receiving, thinking and or assuming another thing with the expectation to enjoy some form of gain in one way or another (Rudolph.Patrick. Tawanda. Muteswa, 2021:41). “For purposes of this textbook ‘branding’ refers to how a country, organization, group or individuals want to: (1) appeal, (2) be viewed, (3) be differentiated, (4) be identified, (5) benchmarked and so on by both its internal stakeholders (such as citizens, people, community, domestic market and so on) and external stakeholders (such as the international community, international bodies, foreign market and so on)” (Rudolph. Patrick. Tawanda. Muteswa, 2021:41). The following section will cover the differences between The Federal Republic of Germany, Republic of Zambia & Republic of South Africa.

2.3 Key differences between The Federal Republic of Germany, Republic of Zambia & Republic of South Africa

Each country is unique thus there are various differences amongst countries and it is important to note that these differences can help to motivate future research topics. The differences between The Federal Republic of Germany, Republic of Zambia & Republic of South Africa are highlighted in Table 2.1 below.

In addition to measuring nation brand value, Brand Finance also determines the relative strength of nation brands through a balanced scorecard of metrics evaluating brand investment, brand equity, and brand performance. For the first time this year, the nation brand strength methodology includes the results of the Global Soft Power Index – the world’s most comprehensive research study on nation brand perceptions, surveying opinions of over 55,000 people based in more than 100 countries. According to these criteria, Germany is the world’s strongest nation brand with a brand strength score of 84.9 out of 100 and a corresponding AAA rating. Long renowned for its strong and stable economy and for being particularly well governed, Germany scores well across the majority of our data points” (Brand Finance, 2020, <https://brandfinance.com/press-releases/germany-is-worlds-strongest-nation>).<sup>33</sup>“Germany is the best country in the world, according to new analysis unveiled Wednesday at the World Economic Forum in Davos. The first-ever Best Countries report awarded Germany the top spot “in part because of its strong economy, world influence and its focus on key global issues, such as the migrant crisis and eurozone unity.” Five other EU members made the top 10. The rankings are meant to reflect how countries are perceived globally. They were compiled by U.S. News & World Report, BAV Consulting and the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. The analysis evaluates 60 nations across 24 rankings lists on a wide range of criteria, from sustainability to economic influence. What are the prevailing expectations and fears given the current world situation? After evaluating 154 interviews with representatives from the worlds of politics, business, science and research and civil society in 24 countries, this is clear: in an increasingly turbulent world, Germany’s stable structures, economic strength and strong sense of values make the country more popular than ever. While the country experienced two decades of positive economic growth and a corresponding expansion of the middle class,.... The economy is expected to grow by only 0.6 percent in 2021. The Zambian economy enjoys liberalized prices on most items and does not have currency controls. Its main export partners in 2020 were Switzerland (due more to the location of commodity traders, rather than actual exportation), China, Singapore, the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC), and Luxembourg. During the same period, Zambia’s main import partner was South Africa, followed by China, the United Arab Emirates, India, and Japan. In 2020, Zambia imported $71.8 million in goods from the United States, down 38 percent from the $99.3 million imported in 2019 (estimates of services imports are unavailable). Zambian imports of American products consisted primarily of machinery, rubber, and vehicles. Zambia exported $40.3 million in goods exports to the United States in 2021, compared with $83.0 million in

Where do you see the focus of South Africa’s soft power activity in the coming years as a regional leader – globally or on the continent of Africa? The soft power assets the South African Nation Brand has in its ‘arsenal’ are diverse, and resilient. Through several primary research engagements - in peer African markets, Asia, Europe, and the Americas - Brand South Africa has found that the country’s profile, reputation, and influence are anchored in several aspects pertaining to its democratic transparency and free press, its diverse economy, and infrastructural base. However, towering head and shoulders above the forementioned factors, in terms of soft power influence (and brand association), is an agglomeration that emanates from the deep creative heart that beats in mountains, forests, deserts, cities, and towns of this country. The proverbial beat of South Africa’s soft power heart lies in its people and the art, music (just think of the epic global influence South African jazz has had on ears around the planet!), film, entertainment, and the country’s vibrant cultural scene” (Sampson, J., 2021, <https://brandfinance.com/insights/south-africa-highest-ranked-nation-sub-saharan-africa>). ## 2.5 Conclusion

It can be concluded that some of the amazingly beautiful countries in the world such as The Federal Republic of Germany, Republic of Zambia & Republic of South Africa have successfully managed to boost their nation brands. Germany is one of the most prosperous economy in the world that plays a critical role in promoting and supporting various global issues. The Republic of South Africa is unquestionably one of the richest nations on the continent of Africa that has managed to maintain economic growth and a positive international stature. It can therefore be concluded that the Republic of Zambia is a natural resources rich nation that has a

- 1) Briefly define the following terms 'branding' and 'benefit'?
- 2) Identify the key differences between The Federal Republic of Germany, Republic of Zambia & Republic of South Africa?
- 3) Discuss in greater detail why The Federal Republic of Germany, Republic of Zambia & Republic of South Africa are part of the '28 Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World'

Chapter 3: Republic of France, Kingdom of The Netherlands & Republic of Malawi

After reading this chapter you should be able to:

- Define the following terms ‘nation brand’ and ‘responsibility’.
- Discuss the key differences between the Republic of France, Kingdom of The Netherlands & the Republic of Malawi.
- Explain why the Republic of France, Kingdom of The Netherlands & the Republic of Malawi are part of the ‘28 Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’.

3.1 Introduction

Today it has become the main priority of many countries to achieve global goals and rankings in order to boost their nation brand values. France. <sup>41</sup>“France is the most visited country in the world with 89 million foreign tourists in 2017” (The World Factbook 2021. Washington, DC: Central Intelligence Agency, 2021. <https://www.cia.gov/the-world-factbook>). The Netherlands. The Kingdom of The Netherlands is consistently ranked as having the highest quality of life, culture diversity, romance, arts, happiness and so on. Malawi. Today the great nation of Malawi is globally known for its vast wildlife reserves, lakes and also for having the friendliest, educated and creative people. <sup>42</sup>“What’s gone wrong with the world? Things seem to be getting worse all the time: climate change, terrorism, pandemics, migration, economic chaos... the list goes on. All these problems have grown too big and too complex for any individual nation to solve. But instead of collaborating, nations spend all their energy and resources competing against each other. This has to change if we want to make the world work. This is why the Good Country exists (Professor Simon Anholt, 2021, <https://www.goodcountry.org/>). <sup>43</sup>“About the Good

Country Index. Since 2014, the Good Country Index has provided a different way of looking at the world. The idea of the Good Country Index is simple: to measure what each country on earth contributes to the common good of humanity, and what it takes away, relative to its size. The Good Country Index doesn't make moral judgments: it simply reports on each country's external impacts, positive and negative, outside its own borders, using the most reliable data available. The Good Country Index is one of many projects Simon Anholt has devised to start a global debate about what countries are for. Should they exist only to serve their own interests, or do they have a wider responsibility to humanity and the planet? The Good Country Index doesn't measure what countries do at home. That's important too, of course, but there are many surveys that do this already. Uniquely, it only looks at each country's external impact on the world we all share. Today as never before, we desperately need a world made of good countries. We will only get them if we strive for them: with our leaders, our companies, our societies, and of course ourselves" (Professor Simon Anholt, 2021, <https://www.goodcountry.org/index/about-the-index/>).<sup>44</sup> According to Professor Simon Anholt (2021) Do we need another country index? Almost all other indexes measure country performance in isolation: whether it's economic growth, stability, justice, transparency, good governance, productivity, democracy, freedom, or even happiness, it's mostly measured as internal performance. The Good Country Index tries to measure the global impacts of policies and behaviours: what they contribute to the "global commons", and what they take away. This forms a truer and more realistic global balance-sheet than one which carries on pretending that each country sits on its own private planet. The concept of the Good Country is all about encouraging populations and their governments to be more outward looking, and to consider the international consequences of their national behavior (Professor Simon Anholt, 2021, <https://www.goodcountry.org/index/your-questions/background/do-we-need-another-index-to-measure-how-countries-behave/>).<sup>45</sup> “What do you mean, “good”? Try thinking of “good” as a measure of how much a country contributes to the common good. So in this context “good” means the opposite of “selfish”, not the opposite of “bad”. The Good Country Index isn't trying to make any moral judgments: it just measures, as objectively as possible, what each country contributes to the common good, and what it takes away, relative to its size. For this reason, the Good Country Index does not include any purely domestic measurements, such as poverty, inequality, quality of life, corruption or human rights within the country's own borders. Of course these things are important, but reliable data on such matters is pretty easy to find: it's what most other country rankings measure and there's simply no point in the Good Country Index duplicating their efforts. What the Good Country Index is trying to measure is something different, something unique, and something critically important in our interconnected, interdependent world: how much each country contributes to the world outside its own borders. It's essential always to compare the GCI rankings alongside a reputable measurement of domestic progress, such as the UN's Human Development Index, or the Social Progress Index. That way, you can start to get a true and complete picture of where each country stands” (Professor Simon Anholt, 2021, <https://www.goodcountry.org/>). The following section will cover in-depth aspects related to the definition of terms.

3.2 Define the following terms ‘nation brand’ and ‘responsibility’

Most of the words that are used in the academic field nowadays have numerous definitions that have been developed by industry experts and academics. <sup>4647</sup>“A nation brand is the sum of people’s perceptions of a country. In a fiercely competitive world, the degree to which a country is admired, trusted and respected can have direct economic and social impact on that nation” (Australian Trade and Investment Commission, 2021, <https://www.austrade.gov.au/nation-brand> cited in Muteswa, R.P.T., 2021:45). <sup>48</sup>“Responsibility refers to having the duty to conduct a specific action, task, role or obligation as expected over a specific period of time” (Rudolph.

The United States and France established diplomatic relations in 1778. The United States’ first trade agreement, the Treaty of Amity and Commerce between the United States and France, was signed that same year. Relations between the United States and France have remained active and friendly. Our countries share common values and have similar policies on most political, economic, and security issues. With a GDP of approximately $2.6 trillion in 2020 (down 8.2% in 2020, +1.5% y-o-y growth in 2019), France is the world’s fifth-largest economy and Europe’s third-largest economy after Germany and the UK. It has substantial agricultural resources and maintains a strong manufacturing sector, despite a recent decline. A dynamic services sector now accounts for an increasingly large share of economic activity and is responsible for most job creation in recent years. France initiated the G-20, is host to the OECD, and is a member of the G-7, the European Union, and the World Trade Organization, confirming its status as a leading economic player globally. France has an educated population, first-rate universities, and a talented workforce. It has a modern business culture, sophisticated financial markets, strong intellectual property protections, and innovative business leaders. The country is known for its world-class infrastructure, including high-speed passenger rail, maritime ports, extensive roadway networks and public transportation, and efficient intermodal connections. In 2019, France was the ninth-largest global market for foreign direct investment (FDI) inflows. In total, there are more than 28,000 foreign-owned companies doing business in France. It is the home to 29 of the world’s 500 largest companies. Trade and investment ties between the United States and France are strong. On average, over $1 billion in commercial transactions, including sales of U.S. and French foreign affiliates, takes place every day. U.S. exports to France include industrial chemicals, aircraft and engines, electronic components, telecommunications, computer software, computers and peripherals, analytical and scientific instrumentation, medical instruments and supplies, and broadcasting equipment. The United States is the top foreign destination for French investment. By country of the ultimate beneficial owner (UBO), France

3.4.2 Kingdom of The Netherlands

The Kingdom of The Netherlands is known for having the friendliest, values centered, high work ethic, health-conscious, travel explorative, culinary explorative, happiest and open people in the world. In general The Netherlands has strict environment protection laws and today is known as one of the cleanest nations in the world with very limited pollution levels if it is compared to other nations around the world. <sup>57</sup>“The Dutch people are friendly. One of the best things to experience when you’re in an unfamiliar environment is friendly people. Fortunately, the Dutch people are open, welcoming and don’t hesitate to engage when they pass you on the street. The Netherlands offers good organization and infrastructure. Organization is extremely important when it comes to any type of setting, but it makes a living in a particular country with a balanced and well-thought-out infrastructure so much simpler and enjoyable. There are several regulations in place that allows everyone and everything to be in compliance. For example, there are very strict rules regarding waste. Trash must be placed in a specific spot at a set time, or the resident could face fines, especially if it is actually in or too close to the street. The Dutch public transportation system is well-structured and offers fast, reliable ways to get from one end of the

The Netherlands remained neutral in World War I, but suffered German invasion and occupation in World War II. A modern, industrialized nation, the Netherlands is also a large exporter of agricultural products. The country was a founding member of NATO and the EEC (now the EU) and participated in the introduction of the euro in 1999. In October 2010, the former Netherlands Antilles was dissolved and the three smallest islands - Bonaire, Sint Eustatius, and Saba - became special municipalities in the Netherlands administrative structure. According to Royal Schiphol Group (2020:10) Amsterdam Airport Schiphol is the gateway that connects the Netherlands to the rest of the world. Over the years, Schiphol has become one of the best connected hub airports in Europe, with 316 direct destinations. In 2020, the number of passengers served by the Dutch airports in the Group fell sharply due to the COVID-19 pandemic. At Schiphol, passenger volumes decreased by 70.9% to 20.9 million and cargo volumes decreased by 8.2% to 1.4 million tonnes. Nevertheless, Schiphol remains an important marketplace: more than 1,000 organisations are airport-related, located on the airport site or in close proximity with a combined employee base of more than 72,000 people. Schiphol Group is the owner and operator of Rotterdam The Hague Airport and Lelystad Airport, and holds a majority share in Eindhoven Airport (Royal Schiphol Group, 2020:10). "The country has capitalized on its location and advanced economy to become one of the top trading nations in the world. The Netherlands is the seventeenth largest economy in the world and the fifth largest in the European Monetary Union (the Eurozone), with a gross domestic product (GDP) of $912 billion in 2020. The United States and the Netherlands have a strong bilateral relationship, based on close historical, cultural, and commercial ties. The relationship dates back to the American Revolution and is one of the United States' oldest, continuous bilateral relationships. The United States is the largest foreign investor in the Netherlands, and has its second largest trade surplus ($17.9 billion in 2020) with the Netherlands" (The International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 2021, <https://www.trade.gov/country-commercial-guides/netherlands-market-overview>).

3.4.3 Republic of Malawi

<sup>66</sup>“Background Malawi shares its name with the Chewa word for flames and is linked to the Maravi people from whom the Chewa language originated. The Maravi settled in what is now Malawi around 1400 during one of the later waves of Bantu migration across central and southern Africa. Several of Malawi’s ethnic groups trace their origins to different Maravi lineages. A powerful Maravi kingdom, established around 1500, reached its zenith around 1700, when it controlled what is now southern and central Malawi as well as portions of neighboring Mozambique and Zambia before beginning to decline because of destabilization from the escalating global trade in enslaved people. In the early 1800s, widespread conflict in southern Africa displaced various ethnic Ngoni groups, some of which moved into Malawi and further undermined the Maravi. Members of the Yao ethnic group - which had long traded with Malawi from Mozambique - introduced Islam and began to settle in Malawi in significant numbers the mid-1800s; in the late 1800s, members of the Lomwe ethnic group also moved into southern Malawi from Mozambique. British missionary and trading activity increased in the area around Lake Nyasa in the mid-1800s, and Britain declared a protectorate, called British Central Africa, over what is now Malawi in 1891 and eliminated various political entities that sought to retain their autonomy over the subsequent decade. The British renamed the territory Nyasaland in 1907 and it was part of the colonial Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland - including present-day Zambia and Zimbabwe - from 1953 to 1963 before gaining independence as Malawi in 1964. Location Southern Africa, east of Zambia, west and north of Mozambique. Climate sub-tropical; rainy season (November to May); dry season (May to November). Terrain narrow elongated plateau with rolling plains, rounded hills, some mountains. Natural resources limestone, arable land, hydropower, unexploited deposits of uranium, coal, and bauxite. world-factbook/).<sup>69</sup> According to Crouch, M. (2015) Malawi is often referred to as the warm heart of Africa, and not just because it's placed close to the equator. The people of Malawi are well known for being warm and welcoming to travelers. It is also worth noting that the second official language of Malawi is English, which helps to break down barriers between volunteers and locals. Malawi is a developing country that faces many challenges, but it is also a serene place to visit. To that end, you simply can't visit the country without experiencing its most stunning feature, Lake Malawi, known locally as Lake Nyasa. The lake's irresistible mix of clear water, wilderness, and wildlife makes it the nation's must-see location. Malawi is home to a number of national parks, including the Cape McClear Nature Reserve and the Liwonde National Park. The latter, Liwonde, is home to numerous species of large animals, including elephants and hippos. Consequently, the park rivals even the best safari reserves in Africa. Additionally, Malawi is home to incredible mountain ranges, such as the Zomba Plateau and the Mulanje Mountain. Both of these places are pure wilderness, scattered with waterfalls, rivers, and other incredible spots. Malawi is a beautiful and vibrant country, full of friendly faces, a diverse culture, and stunning landscapes (Crouch, M., 2015, <https://www.goabroad.com/articles/volunteer-abroad/5-reasons-to-choose-malawi-as-your-volunteer-abroad-destination>). ### 3.5 Conclusion

It can therefore be concluded that the Republic of France, the Kingdom of The Netherlands and the Republic of Malawi are well known for their pro-democracy, happy, friendly and welcoming citizens. The Republic of France is a key player on the continent of Europe in terms of economics, international trade, tourism, security and so on. In addition the Kingdom of The Netherlands is a globally ranked beautiful country in the world that enjoys a highly unique and attractive culture, lifestyle and weather. It can be concluded that the Republic of Malawi is a thriving foreign investor and politically stable democracy that is rich in natural vegetation, wildlife and culture. The Republic of Malawi has successfully managed to position its nation brand as a key: foreign direct investment (FDI), technology, tourism and agricultural exports hub on the continent of Africa. Malawi has strongly strengthened its international stature over the

- 1) Briefly define the following terms ‘nation branding’ and ‘responsibility’?
- 2) Identify the key differences between the Republic of France, Kingdom of The Netherlands & the Republic of Malawi?
- 3) Discuss in greater detail why the Republic of France, Kingdom of The Netherlands & the Republic of Malawi are part of the ‘28 Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’?

Chapter 4: Ireland, Republic of Senegal & Republic of Kenya

After reading this chapter you should be able to:

- Define the following terms ‘fairness’ and ‘honesty’.
- Discuss the key differences between Ireland, the Republic of Senegal & the Republic of Kenya.
- Explain why Ireland, the Republic of Senegal & the Republic of Kenya are part of the ‘28 Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’.

4.1 Introduction

Over the past number of years the continent of Africa has experienced enormous economic and technological growth and some of the countries with positive growth trajectories or thriving economies include the Republic of Kenya and the Republic of Senegal. The critical ingredient behind the Republic of Kenya and the Republic of Senegal’s economic growth and enhanced nation brands values is the promotion of human rights and democracy principles despite facing various challenges. The tourism sector of Kenya has enormously contributed towards the country’s increased nation brand value and economic strength on the continent of Africa. “Senegal is one of Africa’s most stable electoral democracies and has undergone peaceful transfers of power between rival parties since 2000”<sup>70</sup> (FreedomHouse, 2021, <https://freedomhouse.org/country/senegal/freedom-world/2021>). In Western Europe, Ireland is a typical good example of a developed nation that has become one of the most ‘Amazingly Beautiful Countries’ to live, invest, work, export, visit and so on. Ireland is one of the world’s leading advocate of human rights, world peace, democracy, climate change literacy, health, education and humanity around the world. The following section will cover in-depth aspects related to the definition of terms.

4.2 Define the following terms ‘fairness’ and ‘honesty’

The simplification of terms or words in scholarly works is generally critical since this helps learners to have basic or in-depth understanding of the meaning of the terms or words being discussed. <sup>71</sup>“Honesty can be defined as an inner motivation that drives an individual to be truthful, sincere and act with honor” (Rudolph. Patrick.T. Muteswa, 2019:67). “Fairness is whereby equal treatment is uniformly applied to everyone dealing with an organization, institution, person or any form of legal entity and it is done in a way that is in direct alignment with relevant legislation and or rules” (Rudolph. Patrick.T.Muteswa, 2019:51). In the following section the differences between the Republic of Ireland, the Republic of Senegal & the Republic of Kenya will be covered.

4.3 Key differences between Ireland, the Republic of Senegal & the Republic of Kenya

The basic differences that exist amongst nations must be clearly identified to enhance knowledge building in societies. Notably, the differences between Ireland, the Republic of Senegal & the Republic of Kenya are highlighted in Table 4.1 below.

Table 4.1 Major differences between Ireland, the Republic of Senegal & the Republic of Kenya

The following section will cover aspects about some of the ‘28 Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’ in-depth.

4.4 Ireland, the Republic of Senegal & the Republic of Kenya

There are many countries around the world and some of the most ‘Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’ are discussed below.

4.4.1 Ireland

<sup>76</sup>According to This is Ireland (2022) Life & Culture. Inspired by nature, heritage and story – a culture we are proud to share. Life & Culture. Ireland is a place of stunning natural beauty and home to a people known for passion, humour and imagination. Steeped in history and mythology, ours is a creative tradition expressed through art, music, dance, theatre, literature and film. We relish the opportunity to play, to share, to compete and to challenge ourselves. We value our sense of community and we embrace difference. We believe that work must harmonise with life. Ireland – a great place to live. 10th most peaceful country globally (Global Peace Index 2017), 96.9% of Irish people say they have someone to rely on (EuroStat) (This is Ireland, 2022, <https://ireland.ie/life-culture/>). <sup>77</sup>“Business & Innovation. Ireland has the infrastructure, talent and culture to support innovation from startups to international corporations. We are an educated, creative and resourceful people, recognised for our adaptability when faced with new challenges. Our dynamic business environment and multi-cultural population have made Ireland the fastest growing economy in the European Union and home to global leaders across an array of sectors. 10 of the top 10 world's pharmaceutical companies are located here, 1 the only English-speaking country in the Eurozone, 52% of 25-34-year olds have a third level qualification (OECD 2017)” (This is Ireland, 2022, <https://ireland.ie/business-innovation/>). <sup>78</sup>According to This is Ireland (2022) Visit & Experience. An experience like no other. In accordance with the Constitution, justice is administered in public by courts established by law. The President appoints judges on the advice of the Government. History. Ireland has been inhabited for about 7,000 years, and has experienced many incursions and invasions, resulting in a rich mixture of ancestry and traditions. By the sixth century B.C., Celtic invaders had established a cultural and linguistic unity on the island. The introduction of Christianity, traditionally credited to St. Patrick, occurred in the fifth century. Viking incursions in the ninth and tenth centuries influenced the development of trade, particularly in Dublin, Waterford and Cork. The twelfth century witnessed the arrival of the Normans, who had earlier settled in England and Wales. They quickly gained control over large parts of Ireland, which then came under the political authority of the King of England. Towards Independence. In 1916 a republic was declared in Dublin and an armed insurrection took place. This rising, which initially did not enjoy significant public support, was suppressed. Ireland was admitted to the United Nations (UN) in 1955, and joined what is now the European Union (EU) in 1973. New economic development policies led to substantial and rapid growth. Environment. The island of Ireland consists of a large central lowland of limestone with a relief of hills and several coastal mountains and is situated in the north-west of Europe. The mountain ridges of the south comprise old red sandstone separated by limestone river valleys. Elsewhere granite predominates, except in the north east which is covered by a basalt plateau. The central plain contains glacial deposits of clay and sand. It is interrupted by low hills and has large areas of bog and numerous lakes. Climate. Influenced by the Gulf Stream, and with the prevailing south-westerly winds, the climate of Ireland is temperate. The coldest months are January and February which have mean daily air temperatures of between 4°C and 7°C while July and August are the warmest, with mean temperatures of between 14°C and 16°C. In low-lying areas average annual rainfall is mostly between 800mm and 1200mm but in mountainous areas it may exceed 2000mm. <sup>84</sup>Flora and Fauna. Ireland was separated from the European mainland after the last Ice Age. As a result the island has a smaller range of flora and fauna than is found elsewhere in Europe. The original forests have been cleared over most of the country. There are over 400

Special Areas of Conservation (SACs) protected under the EU Habitats Directive. Innovation, enterprise and investment. Ireland has a strong track record in attracting foreign direct investment, with particular emphasis on the ICT, Life Sciences, Financial Services and Consumer, Content and Business Services sectors. Ireland’s positioning as a ‘Smart Economy’ continues apace combining our innovative, enterprise economy with an ever-increasing emphasis on the emerging areas of Clean/Green Technologies, Services Innovation and Convergence. Ireland is also a centre for digital media in Europe with major multinational companies locating their European headquarters and a range of business support activities here. <sup>87</sup>““The United States and Ireland enjoy a close cultural affinity and longstanding political, economic, and commercial relations. The outsized U.S.-Ireland commercial relationship, worth $ 786.9.3 billion in 2020, is significant by international standards and is particularly impressive relative to the country’s population of five million people. With a GDP of almost $437 billion in 2020, Ireland is one of the most open and export-driven economies in the world. Ireland remains a wealthy country and a net exporting nation with a per capita GDP in 2020 of $87,752. Alongside managing the public health pandemic, key priorities for the Irish government are economic recovery, job retention and creation, healthcare reform, and housing. In 2020, U.S. goods exports to Ireland exceeded $9.6 bn and included chemicals and pharmaceuticals, computers and electronic products, aircraft and transportation equipment, power generation technology, medical devices, electrical equipment, and travel & tourism. The statistics for services from 2020 record the value of U.S. service exports to Ireland at $61.9 billion. In 2020, Ireland’s total investment stock in the U.S. was valued at $240.1 billion, maintaining its ranking of the 9th largest source of FDI into the U.S. Over 700 Irish firms employ more than 110,000 people across all 50 states, representing investment in the agri-food/nutrition, construction, healthcare, ICT and professional and engineering services sectors. Conversely, the total stock of U.S. investment in Ireland was $390.3 billion in 2020. There are over 900 U.S. firms in Ireland which currently employ 180,000 people representing 20 percent of total employment in the country. Top reasons why U.S. companies should consider exporting to Ireland: U.S. companies can take advantage of the fact that Ireland is the only European market that is a member of the EU, a member of the Eurozone, and English speaking. In addition to the advantage of a common language, access to educated and well-connected business partners is relatively easy in a pro-business environment. Ireland is a viable test market for American SMEs looking to export for the first time into Europe. Ireland’s strategic geographical location also positions the country as a gateway to Europe with access to a wider market of 742 million people. Ireland’s high receptiveness for U.S. products and services creates a fertile market for American brands across sectors. U.S. goods and technologies are perceived to be of high quality, and U.S. companies receive positive support from local partners, helping to further export goals for Ireland and the European marketplace. #### 4.4.2 Republic of Senegal

<sup>89</sup>““Senegal, country in western Africa. Located at the westernmost point of the continent and served by multiple air and maritime travel routes, Senegal is known as the “Gateway to Africa.” The country lies at an ecological boundary where semiarid grassland, oceanfront, and tropical rainforest converge. It is from this rich natural heritage that the country’s national symbols were chosen: the baobab tree and the lion”<sup>90</sup> (Clark, Andrew, Hargreaves, John D. and Camara, Camille, 2021, <https://www.britannica.com/place/Senegal>). <sup>91</sup>““Background Senegal is one of the few countries in the world with evidence of continuous human life from the Paleolithic era to present. Between the 14th and 16th centuries, the Jolof Empire ruled most of Senegal. Starting in the 15th century, Portugal, the Netherlands, France, and Great Britain traded along the Senegalese coast. slave trade. European powers used the Senegalese island of Goree as a base to purchase slaves from the warring chiefdoms on the mainland, and at the height of the slave trade in Senegal, over one-third of the Senegalese population was enslaved. In 1815, France abolished slavery and began expanding inland. During the second half of the 19th century, France took possession of Senegal as a French colony. In 1959, the French colonies of Senegal and French Sudan were merged and granted independence in 1960 as the Mali Federation. The union broke up after only a few months. In 1982, Senegal joined with The Gambia to form the nominal confederation of Senegambia. The envisaged integration of the two countries was never implemented, and the union dissolved in 1989. Senegal is one of the most stable democracies in Africa and has a long history of participating in international peacekeeping and regional mediation. ### 4.4.3 Republic of Kenya

<sup>95</sup>“Background Trade centers such as Mombasa have existed along the Kenyan and Tanzanian coastlines, known as the Land of Zanj, since at least the 2nd century. These centers traded with the outside world, including China, India, Indonesia, the Middle East, North Africa, and Persia. By around the 9th century, the mix of Africans, Arabs, and Persians who lived and traded there became known as Swahili (“people of the coast”) with a distinct language (KiSwahili) and culture. The Portuguese arrived in the 1490s and, using Mombasa as a base, sought to monopolize trade in the Indian Ocean. The Portuguese were pushed out in the late 1600s by the combined forces of Oman and Pate, an island off the coast. In 1890, Germany and the UK divided up the region, with the UK taking the north and the Germans the south, including present-day Tanzania, Burundi, and Rwanda. The British established the East Africa Protectorate in 1895, which in 1920 was converted into a colony and named Kenya after its highest mountain. Numerous political disputes between the colony and the UK subsequently led to the violent Mau Mau Uprising, which began in 1952, and the eventual declaration of independence in 1963. Location Eastern Africa, bordering the Indian Ocean, between Somalia and Tanzania. Climate varies from tropical along coast to arid in interior. Terrain low plains rise to central highlands bisected by Great Rift Valley; fertile plateau in west. Natural resources limestone, soda ash, salt, gemstones, fluorspar, zinc, diatomite, gypsum, wildlife, hydropower. Major watersheds (area sq km) Atlantic Ocean drainage: (Mediterranean Sea) Nile (3,254,853 sq km). Major aquifers Ogaden-Juba Basin. Economic overview Kenya is the economic, financial, and transport hub of East Africa. Kenya's real GDP growth has averaged over 5% for the last decade. Since 2014, Kenya has been ranked as a lower middle income country because its per capita GDP crossed a World Bank threshold. Agriculture remains the backbone of the Kenyan economy, contributing one-third of GDP. About 75% of Kenya's population of roughly 48.5 million work at least part-time in the agricultural sector, including livestock and pastoral activities. Over 75% of agricultural output is from small-scale, rain-fed farming or livestock production. Tourism also holds a significant place in Kenya's economy. It also serves as the point of entry to the larger, 300 million East African market. The agricultural sector is the backbone of the economy, contributing approximately 33 percent of Kenya’s Gross Domestic Product (GDP). The agriculture sector employs more than 40 percent of the total population and 70 percent of the rural population. Kenya has one of the most developed power sectors in sub-Saharan Africa, with an active private sector, a strong national power utility, and abundant renewable energy resources, especially geothermal, wind, and solar. strategic location, diversified economy, entrepreneurial workforce, comprehensive air routes, and status as a regional financial center. According to the World Bank Kenya Overview, over the period from 2015 to 2019, Kenya's economic growth averaged 5.7%, making it one of the fastest growing economies in Sub-Saharan Africa. A stable macroeconomic environment, positive investor confidence, and a resilient services sector has boosted the economy's performance. The World Bank's 2020 Doing Business report ranked Kenya 56 out of 190 countries, an improvement of five places from the previous year's ranking. Agriculture remains the backbone of Kenya's economy and central to Kenya's development strategy. Key exports, such as tea, coffee, and floriculture require little or no processing. Although Kenya's mineral resources are limited, the country is an important source of high-value mineral commodities such as titanium, gold, and rare earth minerals. The construction and real estate sector have been one of the fastest growing sectors in Kenya, with an average growth rate of 7.0%, contributing about 6.0% of GDP. The technology sector is also one of the fastest-growing business sectors in Kenya, and internet access rates are some of the highest in sub-Saharan Africa. The rise of 4G and 4G LTE services in 2020, the GOK-approved universal 4G coverage, and the growth in smartphone usage are influencing growth in e-commerce and other e-based services and innovation. The tourism sector in Kenya is one of the most diverse in East Africa, with increased investments in conference, eco-tourism, and leisure tourism<sup>100</sup> (The World Bank Group, 2021 & The World Bank Doing Business, 2021 cited in The International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 2021, <https://www.trade.gov/knowledge-product/kenya-market-overview>). - 1) Briefly define the following terms 'global' and 'honesty'?
- 2) Identify the key differences between Ireland, the Republic of Senegal & the Republic of Kenya?
- 3) Discuss in greater detail why Ireland, the Republic of Senegal & the Republic of Kenya are part of the '28 Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World'?

Chapter 5: Kingdom of Belgium, the Federal Republic of Nigeria & Portugal (The Portuguese Republic)

After reading this chapter you should be able to:

- Define the following terms ‘principle’ and ‘support’.
- Discuss the key differences between the Kingdom of Belgium, the Federal Republic of Nigeria & Portugal (The Portuguese Republic).
- Explain why the Kingdom of Belgium, the Federal Republic of Nigeria & Portugal (The Portuguese Republic) are part of the ‘28 Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’.

5.1 Introduction

Portugal.<sup>101</sup>“Ready for some fun facts about Portugal that might surprise you? Small in size but large in stature, Portugal has given rise to a medley of firsts and greats. Portugal is the oldest country in Europe. And the award for oldest nation-state in Europe goes to... Portugal. In 1139, Portugal appointed King Afonso Henriques as its king. Lisbon is said to be four centuries older than Rome. Due to its excellent trading location, the Phoenicians settled in Lisbon around 1200 BC. It may not be Hawaii, but one of our favourite fun facts about Portugal is that it’s 800km Atlantic coastline and temperate climate makes it a year-round surfing hotspot. A Portuguese explorer was the first to complete a full journey around the earth Portuguese explorer, Ferdinand Magellan, is said to have led the first expedition to circumnavigate the globe. Piri-Piri originated in Portugal. The world has Portugal to thank for piri-piri, the chilli sauce quite often liberally poured over the nation’s favourite churrasco chicken. The chilli that is the sauce’s main ingredient hails from South America, and it was from here that the Portuguese then took the chillis to Africa. It was here that the melange of chilli, garlic and lemon resulted in this famous sauce” (Trafalgar Tours, 2020, <https://www.trafalgar.com/real-word/fun-facts-about-portugal/>).

Nigeria.<sup>102</sup>According to Whiting, K. (2019) to the west of the Nigerian capital Abuja, the grey monolith of Zuma Rock towers above the cars on the motorway below. One of the West African country's most famous landmarks, Zuma is shrouded with local myths and adorns the 100 naira banknote. But it's also a metaphor for Nigeria's solid and lofty economic position on the African continent, nicknamed the "Giant of Africa". Nigeria is one of the world's biggest oil exporters – and Africa's biggest oil producer, pumping out around 2 million barrels each day (Whiting, K., 2019, <https://www.weforum.org/agenda/2019/08/nigeria-africa-economy/>). Belgium. The Kingdom of Belgium is renowned for its rich cultural diversity, pro-human rights protection stance, good governance, diplomacy excellence, modern tech-savvy lifestyle, strong nation brand, high tourist arrivals numbers and so on. Over the past number of years the Kingdom of Belgium has been ranked by many 'nation branding & better quality of life' country ranking firms/institutions as one of the many countries in the world that enjoys a consistent year-on-year positive growth trajectory in terms of its nation brand value. The following section will cover in-depth aspects related to the definition of terms.

5.2 Define the following terms 'principle' and 'support'

It is critical for words or terms to be defined in educational books as this helps learners and or readers to have basic or in-depth understanding of the meaning of the terms or words being discussed. <sup>103</sup>“A principle refers to a rule, norm, a habitual belief that shapes behavior in a manner that upholds what an individual, society or organization strongly values” (Rudolph. Patrick. T. Muteswa, 2021:27). <sup>104</sup>According to Rudolph. Patrick. Tawanda. Muteswa (2021:96) the term 'support' for the context of this book refers to the assisting, helping, facilitating and working together of an individual or organization to achieve a uniform goal (Rudolph. Patrick. Tawanda. Muteswa, 2021:96). In the following section the differences between the Kingdom of Belgium, the Federal Republic of Nigeria & Portugal (The Portuguese Republic) will be covered.

The following section will cover aspects about some of the ‘28 Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’ in-depth.

5.4 Kingdom of Belgium, the Federal Republic of Nigeria & Portugal (The Portuguese Republic)

Most of the countries around the world are now placing more emphasis on improving the quality of life of their people through economic growth, conserving the natural environment, upholding peace and human rights in order to improve their international stature rankings. Some of the ‘Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’ are discussed below.

5.4.1 Kingdom of Belgium

<sup>108</sup>According to Michigan State University (2021) Belgium is a country in Western Europe that borders the North Sea. Neighboring countries include France, Germany, Luxembourg, and the Netherlands. Flat coastal plains take up most of the northwest, but rugged mountains of the Ardennes Forest lie in the southeast. The government system is a federal parliamentary democracy under a constitutional monarchy. The chief of state is the king, and the head of government is the prime minister. Belgium has a mixed economic system which includes a private-enterprise system, combined with centralized economic planning, and government regulation. Belgium is a member of the European Union (EU) (Michigan State University, 2021,

<https://globaledge.msu.edu/countries/belgium>).<sup>109</sup> Furthermore, according to the Belgian Federal Public Authorities (2021) Belgium became independent in 1830. Between 1970 and 1993, the country evolved into a more efficient federal structure. This occurred through six state reforms (in 1970, 1980, 1988-89, 1993, 2001 and 2012-2014). As a result, the first Article of the Belgian constitution reads today: 'Belgium is a federal state, composed of communities and regions'. The power to make decisions is no longer the exclusive preserve of the federal government and the federal parliament. The leadership of the country is now in the hands of various partners, who independently exercise their authority within their domains. The communities. The redistribution of power occurred along two lines. The first line relates to language and, in a broader sense, to everything related to culture. The result was several communities. The concept of 'community' refers to persons that make up a community and the bond that unifies them, namely their language and culture. Belgium sits across the fault line that separates German and Latin cultures. This explains why the country has three official languages: Dutch, French and German. As a result, Belgium today, has three communities: the Flemish Community, the French Community and the German-speaking Community. These communities therefore correspond with the population groups. The regions. The second line of state reform was historically inspired by economic interests. The regions, which aspired to more economic autonomy, conveyed these interests. The establishment of the three regions was the result: the Flemish Region, the Brussels Capital Region and the Walloon Region. Up to a certain level they can be compared with the American states or the German 'Länder'. The country is further divided into 10 provinces and 581 municipal councils. The Federal State. The Federal State nevertheless retains important powers, for example in the area of foreign affairs, national defence, justice, finance, social security, important parts of national health and domestic affairs... However, the communities and the regions also have the power to establish and maintain foreign relations (Belgian Federal Public Authorities, 2021, https://www.belgium.be/en/about\_belgium/government/federale\_staat).

<sup>110</sup>“Belgium's strong points. Belgium, in the heart of Europe. Belgium is in the heart of Europe, surrounded by Germany, the Netherlands, France and the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg. Its excellent airport, road, rail, harbour and port facilities bring the country closer to several other European countries. This privileged strategic position has helped make the country a force to be reckoned with on the international scene, as much in political terms as in terms of the economy or tourism. With its 70 kilometres of coastline in the north and its hilly south, Belgium has plenty of tourist attractions to offer anyone who also wishes to discover its numerous cities, rich in art and history. The country where life is good. It is commonly said about Belgium that it's a country where you can live well. With a high human development index (17th in the UNDP ranking for 2012/2013), the country enjoys a high quality of life. Furthermore, Belgium has a lot of strong points: a healthcare system that is among the most highly developed in the world, its particularly dense transport network, its numerous green spaces, its open, diversified economy, and so on. A major economic player. Situated along a major economic and urban axis, Belgium also has a North Sea coastline. Enriched by its three national languages – French, Dutch, and German – it is at the top of many European competitiveness and productivity rankings. The Belgian economy is known for its great diversity, a guarantee of a certain stability. Most of Belgium's multicultural workers are therefore deployed in the food, automotive, or aerospace sectors, or in industries specialising in pharmaceutical products, biotechnology, and transport and logistics” (Council of Europe, 2021, <https://www.coe.int/en/web/portal/belgianchairmanship-federalstate>). <sup>111</sup>“Location Western Europe, bordering the North Sea, between France and the Netherlands. Climate temperate; mild winters, cool summers; rainy, humid, cloudy. Terrain flat coastal plains in northwest, central rolling hills, rugged mountains of Ardennes Forest in southeast. Natural resources construction materials, silica sand, carbonates, arable land. Ethnic groups Belgian 75.2%, Italian 4.1%, Moroccan 3.7%, French 2.4%, Turkish 2%, Dutch 2%, other 10.6% (2012 est.). Languages Dutch (official) 60%, French (official) 40%, German <https://www.cia.gov/the-world-factbook/countries/portugal/>).<sup>123</sup> According to the Permanent Mission of Portugal to the United Nations The Ministry of Foreign Affairs – MFA (2021) Portugal was founded in 1143, year of the Zamora's Treaty signing. The treaty, agreed upon by D. Afonso Henriques, the first King of Portugal, and Alphonse the VII of León and Castile, recognized Portugal as an independent kingdom. In 1179 that status was confirmed by Pope Alexander the III. During the 12th and 13th Centuries, the Portuguese Kings extended the borders, until conquering the Algarve, consolidating a territory almost unchanged until today. With its borders defined, Portugal started to look inside itself. At the end of the 13th Century, King D. Dinis founded the prestigious University of Coimbra, one of the oldest in Europe. In the most important centers, castles, palaces and cathedrals were built as the territorial administration cemented. In 1385, following a popular movement, D. João I was acclaimed king, thus beginning the 2nd dynasty. The sons of D. João I and D. Filipa de Lencastre would be praised by Luiz Vaz de Camões ("Os Lusíadas") as a noble generation of great princes ("Ínclita geração, altos Infantes"), for their humanism, education and governing skills. Amongst them, one was to be known by History as the visionary and leader who made possible one of humanity's greatest adventures: the Discoveries. Thanks to the impetus of Infant D. Henrique, also known as Henri the Navigator, the Portuguese caravels crossed the seas, putting to use the best scientifically and practical knowledge of those days. During the 14th, 15th and 16th centuries they navigated to Africa, the Far East and the heart of the South American continent. They conquered lands, hoarded wealth and brought to Europe things never seen before. In 1498 Vasco da Gama discovered the maritime route to India and in 1500 Pedro Álvares Cabral arrived in Brasil. The Portuguese would still reach Oman (1508), Malasia (1511), Timor (1512), China (1513) and Japan (1543). It was also a Portuguese, Fernão de Magalhães (sometimes referred to as Magellan), who planned and commanded, between 1519 and 1522, the first circumnavigation of the Globe. This might have been the beginning of the globalization. To celebrate this era, particularly the arrival in India, King D. Manuel had the Jeronimos Monastery built (a singular building in which nautical motives are very present) and inserted the armillary sphere in the Portuguese flag. The small kingdom was then the largest Empire in the world. Portugal brought together wise men and mercenaries, scientists and painters, businessmen and poets, slaves and princes. Such power and wealth awoke the jealousy of other peoples and after the tragic death of the young King D. Sebastião, in a battle at Alcácer Quibir, in the North of Africa, the resultant vacant throne was occupied by Spanish Kings, who united the two states under the same government for 60 years. <sup>124</sup>In 1640 Portugal had once again a Portuguese King, D. João IV, who restored the country's independence. In the 18th Century art-lover, absolutist King D. João V ordered the construction, in Mafra, of a giant Convent and palace and, in Lisbon, the Aqueduct of Águas Livres. However, the luxurious and exotic capital of the kingdom almost completely vanished in 1755 due to a devastating earthquake. It was Marquês de Pombal, Prime Minister of King D. José, who recreated a new Lisbon, monumental and ready to take on the furies of nature. In the early 19th Century, Napoleon's troops invaded Portugal and the court moved to Brazil, in order to ensure the Portuguese dynastical continuity and independence. Returning 14 years later, in 1821, King João VI found a different country: besides the scars of years of war, the liberal movement had transformed the political landscape. The king's power was no longer absolute and the first Constitution was close to being approved. After D. João VI's death, civil war broke out (1828) between his two sons: D. Miguel, supported by the courts, who opposed the Constitution, and D. Pedro, who defended it, along a liberal vision of the State, but was legally prevented from taking the Portuguese crown as he had declared Brazil's independence 6 years earlier. The quarrel would be settled in 1834 with the signing of the "Convenção de Évora Monte" that put an end to military operations and determined a return to a liberal and constitutional version of the monarchy. Republican ideas started gaining ground and momentum from the end of the 19th century onwards. After the King's assassination in 1908 and the revolution of October 5th, 1910, a Republic was established. D. Manuel II was the last King of Portugal and Teófilo Braga the first republican Head of State. Manuel de Arriaga was the first elected President of the Portuguese Republic. After a troubled period and the Portuguese participation at the First World War, a military coup caused the "Estado Novo" to emerge. This was an authoritarian, one party regime dominated by António Oliveira Salazar, who governed the country for almost half a century. However, on 25 April 1974 the «Carnation Revolution» returned freedom and democracy to the Portuguese, swiftly recognizing the independence of the former African colonies. Once again inside its original borders, Portugal turned round and faced Europe. In 1986

In the North precipitation is higher and temperatures are lower, but temperature range is widest in the interior. To the south of the Tagus, the largest river in the Iberian Peninsula, one can feel the Mediterranean influence, with hot, long summers and short winters with little rainfall. Madeira has a Mediterranean climate with mild and pleasant temperatures all year round, while the Azores have a temperate maritime climate with abundant rainfall. National Symbols. National Flag. Following the establishment of the Republic, a decree of the National Constituent Assembly dated 19 June 1911 approved a new national flag. The national flag is vertically divided into two colours - dark green and red - with the green on the hoist or flagstaff side. In the centre, superimposed on the colour boundary, is the national coat of arms rimmed in white, over the armillary sphere in yellow and highlighted in black. The length of the flag is one-and-a-half times the height of the hoist. Two fifths of the total length are green, and the remaining three fifths are red. The emblem occupies half the height and is placed equidistant from the upper and lower borders.

5.5 Conclusion

It can be concluded that the Federal Republic of Nigeria is the largest economy on the continent of Africa and it is rich in culture, tourist attraction sites, natural resources and so on. Furthermore, it can be concluded that Portugal is the oldest country in Europe with a successful history of discovery and adventure. The Kingdom of Belgium is indeed the hub of the promotion of global human rights, democracy and diplomacy excellence and as a result this ultimately makes Belgium enjoy a strong nation brand status. In general the Kingdom of Belgium, the Federal Republic of Nigeria and Portugal have unique historical architecture, industries and values/beliefs which somehow make their quality of life rich whilst at the same time highly attractive to the international community.

5.6 Discussion questions

- 1) Briefly define the following terms ‘principle’ and ‘support’?
- 2) List the key differences between the Kingdom of Belgium, the Federal Republic of Nigeria & Portugal (The Portuguese Republic)?
- 3) Discuss in greater detail why the Kingdom of Belgium, the Federal Republic of Nigeria & Portugal (The Portuguese Republic) are part of the ‘28 Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’?

Chapter 6: Canada, the Federative Republic of Brazil & Republic of Botswana

After reading this chapter you should be able to:

- Define the following terms ‘celebrate’ and ‘freedom’.
- Discuss the key differences between Canada, the Federative Republic of Brazil & the Republic of Botswana.
- Explain why Canada, the Federative Republic of Brazil & Republic of Botswana are part of the ‘28 Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’.

6.1 Introduction

How your country is perceived on the global arena is critical towards its economic growth (via tourism, international trade, creation of new export markets & banking institutions), political agreements (such as world peace, protection of human rights & climate change initiatives) and so on. Canada. In general the great nation of Canada is one of the world’s cleanest and climate friendly nation with strict environment protection laws. Canada has a multicultural/diverse culture population, vast natural beauty, friendliest people and this has also led to Canada being ranked as a leading global tourist destination and one of the world’s best places to live with the happiest people. <sup>127</sup>According to the Michigan State University (2021) the head of state is the queen of the United Kingdom, and the head of government is the prime minister of Canada. Canada has a market economic system in which the prices of goods and services are determined in a free price system. Canada is a member of the Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC), the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA), and the Trans-Pacific Partnership (TPP) (Michigan State University, 2021, <https://globaledge.msu.edu/countries/canada>). Federative Republic of Brazil. Globally the great nation of Brazil is known for its diverse sporting activities and over the past number of years it has successfully hosted several major sporting events (during the year 2014 and 2016). Brazil is home to the world famous natural beauty ‘The Amazon River’ and ‘The Amazon Rainforest’.

<sup>128</sup>Notably, Brazil is ranked as one of the largest economies in the world and it is also a member of the Common Market of the South (Mercosur) which comprises the following countries: Uruguay, Argentina, Paraguay and Venezuela (The World Factbook 2021. Washington, DC: Central Intelligence Agency, 2021, <https://www.cia.gov/>). Republic of Botswana. <sup>129</sup>“Botswana has come to be known as the “African Exception.” Its record of economic growth and political democracy stands in stark contrast to virtually all other parts of Sub-Saharan Africa (SSA). World Bank data show that from 1965 to 1999, Botswana achieved the world’s highest rate of growth of per capita income: over 7 percent per annum” (Carleton College, 2020, <https://www.carleton.edu/president/lewis/speeches-writings/botswana-success/>). <sup>130</sup>According to The International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce (2021) with its democratic institutions, Botswana is one of the best functioning democracies in Africa. Botswana and the United States enjoy strong bilateral relations. Botswana’s small population of 2.3 million people belies its potential to leverage its position to be a gateway to the 277 million people southern African market. However, Botswana maintains a good credit profile that is supported by robust fiscal measures which maintain the debt level at no more than 40% of GDP (The International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 2021, <https://www.trade.gov/country-commercial-guides/botswana-market-overview>). The following section will cover in-depth aspects related to the definition of terms.

6.2 Define the following terms ‘celebrate’ and ‘freedom’

<sup>131</sup>“Words become easier to grasp if what they mean is properly defined in a much simpler manner by authors to clearly highlight the logic of whatever they intend to communicate to readers. The term ‘celebrate’ refers to the carrying-out of planned and well designed fun activities to commemorate a positive result or a worthy accomplishment in life” (Rudolph. Patrick. Tawanda. Muteswa, 2021:138). According to Rudolph. Patrick. Tawanda. Muteswa (2021:150) For the purposes of this textbook the term ‘freedom’ means the ability to freely decide and choose your day-to-day passion, ideas, choices and rights without any restrictions (Rudolph. Patrick. Tawanda. Muteswa, 2021:150). In the following section the differences between Canada, the Federative Republic of Brazil & the Republic of Botswana will be covered.

6.3 Key differences between Canada, the Federative Republic of Brazil & the Republic of Botswana

The basic differences that exist amongst nations must be clearly identified to enhance knowledge building in societies. Notably, the differences between Canada, the Federative Republic of Brazil & the Republic of Botswana are highlighted in Table 6.1 below.

6.4 Canada, the Federative Republic of Brazil & the Republic of Botswana

It is now inevitable for countries to benchmark their living standards, happiness, prosperity and human rights indexes against each other to become better at everything they do for their citizens whilst boosting their nation brand. Some of the ‘Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’ include the following:

6.4.1 Canada

In general for the past number of years the beautiful great nation of Canada has been consecutively ranked as having one of the world’s highest quality of life standards and a nation brand. <sup>135</sup>“Canada is one of the leading developed nations in the world that has gone the extra mile in taking a positive step towards attaining a climate friendly economy” (Rudolph. Patrick. Tawanda. Muteswa, 2021:60). <sup>136</sup>According to the Australian Government Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade (2022) Both English and French have official language status, and French-speaking Quebec has a degree of constitutional autonomy in Canada. Indigenous people make up around 4.9 per cent of the population. Canada is the second-largest country in world (after Russia) in land area, with approximately 90 per cent of the population concentrated within 160 km of the US border. Canada has more fresh water than any other country with at least 2 million natural lakes; and almost 9 per cent of Canadian territory is water. Canada is divided into 10 provinces and 3 territories*: Alberta, British Columbia, Manitoba, New Brunswick, Newfoundland and Labrador, Nova Scotia, Ontario, Prince Edward Island, Quebec, Saskatchewan, Northwest Territories*, Nunavut*, and Yukon*. Canada has been an active member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) since its inception in 1949. Canada, Australia and New Zealand have a history of working together in the United Nations (UN) on

Canada gained legislative independence from Britain in 1931 and formalized its constitutional independence from the UK in 1982 when it passed the Canada Act in 1982. Economically and technologically, the nation has developed in parallel with the US, its neighbor to the south across the world's longest international border. Canada also aims to develop its diverse energy resources while maintaining its commitment to the environment. Location Northern North America, bordering the North Atlantic Ocean on the east, North Pacific Ocean on the west, and the Arctic Ocean on the north, north of the conterminous US. Legal system common law system except in Quebec, where civil law based on the French civil code prevails. International law organization participation accepts compulsory ICJ jurisdiction with reservations; accepts ICCT jurisdiction. Economic overview Canada resembles the US in its market-oriented economic system, pattern of production, and high living standards. Since World War II, the impressive growth of the manufacturing, mining, and service sectors has transformed the nation from a largely rural economy into one primarily industrial and urban. Canada has a large oil and natural gas sector with the majority of crude oil production derived from oil sands in the western provinces, especially Alberta. Canada now ranks third in the world in proved oil reserves behind Venezuela and Saudi Arabia and is the world's seventh-largest oil producer. The 1989 Canada-US Free Trade Agreement and the 1994 North American Free Trade Agreement (which includes Mexico) dramatically increased trade and economic integration between the US and Canada. Canada and the US enjoy the world's most comprehensive bilateral trade and investment relationship, with goods and services trade totaling more than $680 billion in 2017, and two-way investment stocks of more than $800 billion. Over three-fourths of Canada's merchandise exports are destined for the US each year. Canada is the largest foreign supplier of energy to the US, including oil, natural gas, and electric power, and a top source of US uranium imports. ### 6.4.3 Republic of Botswana

<sup>146</sup>According to Hanson, S. published in Council for Foreign Relations (2007) Botswana is an upper middle-income country touted as one of Africa's few success stories. The diamond-rich country enjoys stable economic growth, consistently ranks near the top of international anticorruption measures, and remains untouched by the political instability that has roiled so many African nations. Botswana, a landlocked country of 1.8 million people in southern Africa, had the highest per-capita growth rate in the world for more than three decades after its independence in 1966. The bulk of this growth was fueled by diamonds, which were discovered in the early 1970s. Unlike many resource-rich African states, Botswana implemented prudent policies to manage its resources. Bolstered by its institutional strength, Botswana ranks near the top of many indices on governance. Botswana is considered a model for other African countries, but it still has a long way to go (Hanson, S., 2007, <https://www.cfr.org/backgrounder/botswana-african-success-story-shows-strains>).

<sup>147</sup>““Background Seeking to stop the incorporation of their land into Rhodesia (Zimbabwe) or the Union of South Africa, in 1885, three tribal chiefs traveled to Great Britain and successfully lobbied the British Government to put "Bechuanaland" under UK protection. Upon independence

The conclusion of this chapter will be covered in the next section.

6.5 Conclusion

It can therefore be concluded that a country’s rankings or image significantly contributes towards its selection as an ‘Amazingly Beautiful Country in the World’. On the continent of Africa the Republic of Botswana has proven to be one of the most peaceful, multicultural and economically stable country with a thriving tourism sector. It can therefore be concluded that today Canada is a naturally beautiful nation with amazing landscapes, vegetation, wildlife and adventure. Canada is the second largest nation in terms of land area in the world despite being geographically located on the continent of North America. It can be concluded that the Federative Republic of Brazil is

6.6 Discussion questions

- 1) Briefly define the following terms ‘celebrate’ and ‘freedom’?
- 2) Identify the key differences between Canada, the Federative Republic of Brazil & the Republic of Botswana?
- 3) Discuss in greater detail why Canada, the Federative Republic of Brazil & Republic of Botswana are part of the ‘28 Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’?

Chapter 7: Australia, Norway & the Republic of Namibia

After reading this chapter you should be able to:

- Define the following terms ‘positive liberty’ and ‘freedom to make the world (or to live in a world that we make)’.
- Discuss the key differences between Australia, Norway & the Republic of Namibia.
- Explain why Australia, Norway & the Republic of Namibia are part of the ‘28 Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’.

7.1 Introduction

Republic of Namibia. <sup>150</sup>“Overall Prosperity. Namibia is 88th in the overall Prosperity Index rankings. Pillar rankings. Namibia performs most strongly in Governance and Personal Freedom. The biggest improvement compared to a decade ago came in Safety & Security” (Legatum Institute Foundation, 2021, <https://www.prosperity.com/globe/namibia>). Namibia is globally recognized for its strong political and economic stability.<sup>151</sup> According to The International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce (2021) Namibia has a population of 2.5 million, but with the recently completed expansion of the port at Walvis Bay, the country is positioning itself as a gateway to the more than 240 million people in the broader Southern Africa market. Namibia enjoys one of the most stable, peaceful political environments in Africa (The International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 2021, <https://www.trade.gov/country-commercial-guides/namibia-market-overview>). Australia. <sup>152</sup>“Our country. Australia is a unique and diverse country in every way - in culture, population, climate, geography, and history. Culture. Australian culture is as broad and varied as the country's landscape. Australia is multicultural and multiracial and this is reflected in the country's food, lifestyle and cultural practices and experience"<sup>153</sup> (Australian Government australia.gov.au, 2021, <https://info.australia.gov.au/about-australia/our-country>). <sup>154</sup>According to the Australian Government Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade (2021) Australia is one of the most multicultural countries in the world, and home to the world's oldest continuing culture. We have a highly skilled workforce and a proud history of democracy and stable government. Australia's Indigenous peoples have lived on and managed the land for more than 60,000 years however, the early treatment of Australia's Indigenous population was marked by conflict and mistreatment. In 1901, Australia became a nation, forming the Commonwealth of Australia. One year later, Australia became one of the first countries in the world to give women the right to vote. In 1945, Australia became a founding member of the United Nations. We take our international responsibilities seriously and work closely with other countries to promote peace and security. Since 1947, over 65,000 Australians have served in more than 50 peace and security operations around the world. Today we are home to 25 million people from almost 200 countries. All Australians have access to quality and affordable health care – for both physical and mental health. Over 30 per cent of the Australian resident population were born overseas. While English is the national language, more than 300 languages are spoken in Australian homes. The top five (excluding English) are Mandarin, Arabic, Cantonese, Vietnamese, and Italian. Australian democracy. The core defining values of Australian Democracy are: • freedom of election and being elected • freedom of assembly and political participation • freedom of speech, expression and religious belief • rule of law • other basic human rights. Australians enjoy some of the highest living standards in the world despite being home to only 0.3 per cent of the global population. Since 1992, our economy has grown faster than any other major developed country. We have plentiful natural resources and a sophisticated services sector backed by a highly educated workforce. Tourism is one of Australia's largest export industries. It employs over 666,000 people. With 43 cents in every tourism dollar spent in regional areas, tourism is important to both city and rural communities. The top reasons visitors choose Australia are: world-class beauty and natural environments (43 per cent), local wildlife (30 per cent), safety and security (27 per cent), friendly citizens (27 per cent), interesting attractions (25 per cent)<sup>155</sup> (Australian Government Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade, 2021, <https://www.dfat.gov.au/about-australia>). Norway. <sup>156</sup>According to The International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce (2021) Norway is located in Northern Europe and is a part of the Scandinavian Peninsula. Jan Mayen and the Arctic archipelago of Svalbard are also part of Norwegian territory. Most of the country shares a border to the east with Sweden; its northernmost region is bordered by Finland to the south and Russia to the east; and Denmark lies south of its southern tip across the Skagerrak Strait. Norway's extensive coastline is facing the North Atlantic Ocean and the Barents Sea. Norway is a vibrant, stable democracy. Most Norwegians are fluent in English and many have very close cultural and family ties to the United States. Norwegian business ethics are similar to those of the United States. Norway is not a member of the European Union (EU) but is linked to the EU through the European Economic Area (EEA) agreement. By virtue of the EEA, Norway is practically part of the EU's single market, except in fisheries and agriculture (The International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 2021, <https://www.trade.gov/country-commercial-guides/norway-market-overview>). The following section will cover in-depth aspects related to the definition of terms.

7.2 Define the following terms ‘positive liberty’ and ‘freedom to make the world’ cited by Renowned United States of America-based academic Professor & Associate Dean Peter Levine, 2020

<sup>157</sup>“There are several definitions of the term freedom being used in various career fields. <sup>158</sup>Positive liberty: the freedom to do something. Freedom to make the world (or to live in a world that we make). Society is an artifact. We are born into the society of our ancestors, with all its flaws. But we are not compelled to replicate it. We become freer in this fifth sense the more that we design and fashion the world that we inhabit. That is a collaborative task, so it requires some limitations on negative liberty” (Renowned United States of America-based academic Professor & Associate Dean Peter Levine, 2020, <https://peterlevine.ws/?p=12571> cited in Rudolph. Patrick. Tawanda. Muteswa, 2021:151). In the following section the differences between Australia, Norway & the Republic of Namibia will be covered.

7.3 Key differences between Australia, Norway & the Republic of Namibia

The basic differences that exist amongst nations must be clearly identified to enhance knowledge building in societies. Notably, the differences between Australia, Norway & the Republic of Namibia are highlighted in Table 7.1 below.

The following section will cover aspects about some of the '28 Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World' in-depth.

7.4 Australia, Norway & the Republic of Namibia

It is now inevitable for countries to benchmark their living standards, happiness, prosperity and human rights indexes against each other to become better at everything they do for their citizens whilst boosting their nation brand. Some of the 'Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World' include the following:

7.4.1 Australia

<sup>162</sup>“Population. As of December 2014, Australia's population is roughly 23.6 million people. The most populous states are New South Wales and Victoria, with their respective capitals, Sydney and Melbourne, the largest cities in Australia. Australia's population is concentrated along the coastal region of Australia from Adelaide to Cairns, with a small concentration around Perth, Western Australia. The centre of Australia is sparsely populated. Climate. The majority of Australia experiences temperate weather for most of the year. The northern states of Australia are typically warm all the time, with the southern states experiencing cool winters but rarely sub-zero temperatures. Snow falls on the higher mountains during the winter months, enabling skiing in southern New South Wales and Victorian ski resorts, as well as the smaller resorts in Australia's island state, Tasmania. Geography. Australia is an island continent and the world's sixth largest country (7,682,300 sq km). Lying between the Indian and Pacific oceans, the country is approximately 4,000 km from east to west and 3,200 km from north to south, with a coastline 36,735 km long. Canberra is Australia's capital city. With a population of approximately 380,000 people and situated in the Australian Capital Territory, Canberra is roughly half way between the two largest cities Melbourne and Sydney. Australia has 19 listed World Heritage properties. Australia is also famous for its landmark buildings including the Sydney Harbour Bridge; its ancient geology, as well as for its high country. History. Australia's first inhabitants, the Aboriginal people, are believed to have migrated from some unknown point in Asia to Australia between 50,000 and 60,000 years ago. While Captain James Cook is credited with Australia's European discovery in 1770, a Portuguese possibly first sighted the country, while the Dutch are known to have explored the coastal regions in the 1640s. The first European settlement of Australia was in January 1788, when the First Fleet sailed into Botany Bay under the command of Captain Arthur Phillip. Originally established as a penal colony, by the 1830s the number of free settlers was increasing. Transportation of convicts to the eastern colonies was abolished in 1852 and to the western colonies in 1868. Legal system. Australia follows a Westminster system of government and law inherited from the British who originally colonised the country. There are two main political parties and a number of minor parties, which make up the Commonwealth Parliament. Each state and territory also has its own government” (Australian Government australia.gov.au, 2021, <https://info.australia.gov.au/about-australia/our-country>).<sup>163</sup> According to the Australian Government Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade (2021) Renewable energy. Australia has some of the best wind and solar resources in the world and remains committed to sustainable and renewable energy solutions. We are building and investing in renewables at record levels. Renewables are expected to contribute 50 per cent of our electricity sent out by 2030. We also have the world's highest level of uptake of household solar at one in four Australian homes. Hydrogen strategy. Australia is also positioning to be a global leader in hydrogen production and is driving investments to support the growth of a clean, innovative, safe and competitive Australian hydrogen industry. Science and innovation. Innovation drives Australian enterprise, science and research sectors, as well as our response to global crises, and is a priority of the Australian Government. We have developed and implemented a National Innovation and Science Agenda that supports smart ideas to create business growth, local jobs and global success. Emerging technologies are making an impact across Australia's economy and society and are being embraced by Australian businesses of different sizes, across different sectors. The Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organisation (CSIRO) is Australia's most trusted research institution and most connected innovator working with every Australian university, government department and major Australian industry. CSIRO works in over 80 countries and is ranked in the top one per cent of world scientific institutions in 13 of 22 research fields. A leading Antarctic nation. We are a leading Antarctic nation, driving international efforts to preserve Antarctica as a natural reserve devoted to peace and science. We take great pride in this role, with around 80 scientists and support staff living and working on Australia's Antarctic stations during winter, with this number increasing to 200 during summer. <sup>164</sup>Tourism. We are home to an incredible 10 per cent of the world's biodiversity, including a great number of native plants and animals that exist nowhere else on earth. The beauty of our natural landscapes, from pristine coastal areas to lush rainforests and red deserts, makes Australia one of the most desirable travel destinations in the world. Australia's national environment reserve system covers 19.74 per cent of our land mass—more than 151 million hectares across 12,000 properties—and includes a range of habitats from lush rainforests to savannas and deserts. Study in Australia. Education is our largest services export—in 2019, more than 758,000 international students were studying and living in Australia. Our education sector includes world-leading providers, and a diverse range of study options for international students. We also offer prestigious Australia Award scholarships to emerging leaders from around the world to undertake study, research, and professional development in tertiary institutions in Australia and the region. Australia's national symbols. The Australian flag. The stars of the Southern Cross represent Australia's geographic position in the Southern Hemisphere. The large Commonwealth star symbolises the federation of the states and territories, and the Union Jack reflects Australia's early ties to Great Britain. Our national colours. Australia's national colours are green and gold. The colours represent the Golden Wattle, which was proclaimed the national floral emblem in August 1988. The coat of arms. The Australian coat of arms consists of a shield containing the badges of the six Australian states symbolising federation, and the national symbols of the Golden Wattle, the kangaroo and the emu. National anthem. The tune of 'Advance Australia Fair' has been Australia's official national anthem since 19 April 1984.

Australians all let us rejoice,

For we are one and free;

We've golden soil and wealth for toil;

Our home is girt by sea;

National celebrations. Australia Day is celebrated each year on 26 January to celebrate our nation, its achievements, and its people. ANZAC Day - a national day of commemoration for all Australians who have fought in conflicts - is held on 25 April. It marks the day the Australian and New Zealand Army Corps (ANZAC) landed at Gallipoli in Turkey in 1915 during World War One (Australian Government Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade, 2021,

7.4.2 Norway

<sup>168</sup>“Background Two centuries of Viking raids into Europe tapered off following the adoption of Christianity by King Olav TRYGGVASON in 994; conversion of the Norwegian kingdom occurred over the next several decades. In 1397, Norway was absorbed into a union with Denmark that lasted more than four centuries. In 1814, Norwegians resisted the cession of their country to Sweden and adopted a new constitution. Sweden then invaded Norway but agreed to let Norway keep its constitution in return for accepting the union under a Swedish king. Rising nationalism throughout the 19th century led to a 1905 referendum granting Norway independence. Although Norway remained neutral in World War I, it suffered heavy losses to its shipping. Norway proclaimed its neutrality at the outset of World War II, but was nonetheless occupied for five years by Nazi Germany (1940-45). In 1949, Norway abandoned neutrality and became a member of NATO. Discovery of oil and gas in adjacent waters in the late 1960s boosted Norway's economic fortunes. In referenda held in 1972 and 1994, Norway rejected joining the EU. Key domestic issues include immigration and integration of ethnic minorities, maintaining the country's extensive social safety net with an aging population, and preserving economic competitiveness. Other major industries, such as offshore shipping, shipbuilding, fishing and fish farming, information technology, pulp and paper products, and light metals processing have prospered as well.<sup>173</sup>The Norwegian economy features a combination of free market activity and government intervention. The government controls key areas, such as the vital petroleum sector, and the government maintains control over a number of large-scale state enterprises - some of them fully owned, and some publicly traded, but where the government has controlling interests. With its population covering 323,802 square kilometers, Norway is one of the most sparsely populated countries in Europe. It is a narrow and mountainous country nearly 1,600 miles long with a jagged coastline ten times its length. Norway is part of the Schengen Agreement, which guarantees free movement of persons and the absence of internal border control between 22 of the 27 EU Member States, as well as Norway, Iceland, Switzerland and Liechtenstein. Passport controls between Schengen countries have been reintroduced in 2017 (The International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 2021, <https://www.trade.gov/country-commercial-guides/norway-market-overview>). ““Norway tops our 2017 index of inclusive economies, a study of which countries are best at providing growth that is sustained over decades, is broad-based across different sectors, creates jobs for a great majority of the population, and reduces poverty. It also channels the world’s largest sovereign wealth fund, which manages its oil and gas revenues, into long-term economic planning. Norway has managed to translate economic growth into high and rising living standards, with a GDP per capita of $89,741, well above the average of $44,656 for 30 advanced economies covered in our report. Inclusiveness goes beyond employment to take into account other key factors such as education, efforts to close the gender gap and the carbon intensity of its economy. On the education front, Norway comes in second on our index for the quality of the schooling it delivers. The government has prioritised education as a means to diversify its economy and players in conserving the natural environment which ultimately boosts their nation brand value. Australia and the Republic of Namibia have beautiful pristine wildlife, natural vegetation and water reservoirs (ocean, lakes, rivers, streams and so on) which all enable them to be recognized as the ‘World’s Amazingly Beautiful Countries’ in this 21st century. Furthermore, it can be concluded that Norway is one of the top five exporters of natural gas in the world and it is globally ranked as one of the happiest and literate countries in the world.

7.6 Discussion questions

- 1) Briefly define the following terms ‘positive freedom’ and ‘freedom to make the world’ cited by Renowned United States of America-based academic Professor & Associate Dean Peter Levine, 2020?
- 2) List the key differences between Australia, Norway & the Republic of Namibia?
- 3) Discuss in greater detail why Australia, Norway & the Republic of Namibia are part of the ‘28 Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’?

Chapter 8: Spain, Republic of Ghana & Denmark

After reading this chapter you should be able to:

- Define the following terms ‘peace’ and ‘positive peace’.
- Discuss the key differences between Spain, the Republic of Ghana & Denmark.
- Explain why Spain, the Republic of Ghana & Denmark are part of the ‘28 Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’.

8.1 Introduction

Republic of Ghana.<sup>179</sup>“Ghana is pretty much at the centre of the world, being both close to the equator and on the Greenwich Meridian, which represents 0° longitude. On a world map, you’ll find it on the west coast of Africa, the side closest to the Americas and bordering the Atlantic Ocean. Follow the western coast of Africa until it curves inwards and you’ll have located the Gulf of Guinea. Now, draw a line straight down from London to the Gulf and you’ll have landed on Ghana. In fact, Ghana only really has two seasons: one wet and one dry. In the dry season, temperatures can get pretty hot, reaching up to 30°C, or 86°F, on most days. The country is about equal parts sandy desert, shrubby savannah, and lush rainforest. The area along the coast is dry, but the heat is tempered by the cool breezes blowing in off of the Atlantic Ocean” (Jana Jansen van Vuuren, 2021, <https://www.gvi.co.uk/blog/16-interesting-facts-about-ghana/>).<sup>180</sup>“Overall Prosperity. Ghana is 100th in the overall Prosperity Index rankings. Pillar Rankings. Ghana performs most strongly in Personal Freedom and Governance. The biggest improvement compared to a decade ago came in Education” (Legatum Institute Foundation, 2020, <https://www.prosperity.com/globe/ghana>).<sup>181</sup>“Many Ghanaians have strong personal or business

They are also very religious, with roughly 95% engaging in an organized religion” (The International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 2021, <https://www.trade.gov/knowledge-product/ghana-market-overview>). Spain. <sup>182</sup>“Spain’s parliamentary system features competitive multiparty elections and peaceful transfers of power between rival parties. ## 8.2 Define the following terms ‘peace’ and ‘positive peace’

In general many dictionaries including academics, experts and authors have developed numerous definitions of the term ‘peace’ over the past number of years. <sup>186</sup>According to Peace Direct (2021) For some, peace means the absence of violence. To others, peace means freedom from fear. But what does it mean to you? From Sudan to Sri Lanka, our work shows us that peace means different things to us all. Peace is personal. Peace is much more than just the absence of war, but whatever it means, peace is personal (Peace Direct, 2021, <https://www.peacedirect.org/world-peace-day/>). “Positive peace – defined by a more lasting peace that is built on sustainable investments in economic development and institutions as well as societal attitudes that foster peace.

- can be used to gauge the resilience of a society, or its ability to absorb shocks without falling or relapsing into conflict”<sup>187</sup> (Institute for Economics & Peace, 2018, <https://positivepeace.org/what-is-positive-peace>). In the following section the differences between Spain, the Republic of Ghana & Denmark will be covered.

8.4 Spain, the Republic of Ghana & Denmark

It is now inevitable for countries to benchmark their living standards, happiness, prosperity and human rights indexes against each other to become better at everything they do for their citizens whilst boosting their nation brand. Some of the ‘Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’ include the following:

8.4.1 Spain

<sup>195</sup>“Location Southwestern Europe, bordering the Mediterranean Sea, North Atlantic Ocean, Bay of Biscay, and Pyrenees Mountains; southwest of France. With a GDP of USD 1.3 trillion and a population of 47 million people, Spain is the fourth-largest economy in the Eurozone. Spain has traditionally represented a significant export market for the United States, although the global pandemic reduced two-way trade in goods and services. According to the U.S. Department of Commerce, U.S. exports of goods to Spain in 2020 amounted to USD 12.9 billion, down from USD 15.2 billion in 2019. It should be considered that actual U.S. exports to Spain are substantially higher than the reported numbers, since many of Spain’s imports from the United States arrive via ports of entry in other European countries. Of particular interest to U.S. companies already doing business with Latin America, Spain places a high priority on the Washington, DC: Central Intelligence Agency, 2021. <https://www.cia.gov/the-world-factbook/countries/ghana/>). <sup>204</sup>“The population of Ghana lives in a cosmopolitan metropolis, and the government recognises a host of indigenous languages as national languages. Two of the most widespread of these are the Twi language of the Ashanti people, which is spoken in the southern and central regions, and the Dagbani language of the Dagomba people – more commonly spoken by people in areas to the north. Ghana languages were kept alive mainly through oral tradition. Modern Ghanaians communicate across linguistic barriers using English as a unifier. About half of the country speaks English, and it’s one of the nation’s official languages. In fact, even Ghana’s National Anthem is sung in English. Ghanaian food is a mix of indigenous flavours and outside influences – like European and Indian. You’ll find tomato-based stews with complex flavours throughout Ghana. The stews usually contain a type of marine or freshwater fish and are eaten with a dough, which is used to scoop up the fish and soak up the fragrant sauce. The dough – sometimes called fufu or akple – is made from any type of starch, including cassava, plantain, yam, maize, millet, sorghum, potatoes or cocoyams. Another staple of Ghanaian cuisine is jollof rice: a one-pot rice dish that includes a variety of Ghanaian spices with tomatoes and chili. Peanuts are often used to flavour stews and garnish dishes. You’ll also find taro leaves and okra in many dishes. Street food is also a big part of Ghanaian culture, so be sure to buy a few takeaway meals in the market when you visit” (Jana Jansen van Vuuren, 2021, <https://www.gvi.co.uk/blog/16-interesting-facts-about-ghana/>). <sup>205</sup>According to The International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce (2021) There are several business hotels in Accra, and restaurants offering Ghanaian cuisine and as well as food from around the world are plentiful. Washington, DC: Central Intelligence Agency, 2021. <https://www.cia.gov/the-world-factbook/countries/denmark/>). <sup>209</sup>According to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Denmark (2021) Why are Danish people so happy? International surveys usually rank Denmark among the world’s happiest countries. But what makes Danish people so happy? When international surveys ask citizens around the world how happy they are with their daily lives and personal circumstances, Denmark always comes in among the top three happiest countries in the world. But what makes the Danes so happy? Is it the tuition-free access to high-quality education, or the no-fee public health care? Is it the relative lack of crime and corruption, or just plain Danish hygge? According to the World Happiness Report, happiness is closely linked to social equality and community spirit - and Denmark does well on both. Denmark has a high level of equality and a strong sense of common responsibility for social welfare. Even though there are nine major political parties in Denmark, none of them seriously supports dismantling the Danish welfare state. Trust and safety. Trust is an essential value in Danish culture and society, and a significant factor in Danish happiness. In Denmark, the default is to trust one another when it comes to business, government, or personal relationships (World Happiness Report cited in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Denmark, 2021, <https://denmark.dk/people-and-culture/happiness>). Furthermore, according to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Denmark (2021) Trust, community, and the Danish welfare state. Denmark has extremely high levels of social trust. People trust each other and trust institutions like the government, the monarchy, the hospitals, and the police. Trust is an important part of the business environment, too. People are assumed to be honest unless proven otherwise. These values of trust and community are deeply embedded in Danish culture and society and have their roots in Danish history<sup>210</sup> (Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Denmark, 2021, <https://denmark.dk/people-and-culture>). ““Honesty is expected, and corruption in business or among public servants is very rare. The relatively high level of safety in Denmark compared to many other countries means that Danish children enjoy much more freedom and independence than their counterparts elsewhere in the world. And it is usually safe to walk or bicycle in Denmark at any time of the day or night. What is Danish hygge? The Danish concept of hygge is hard to translate, but in general it means taking time away from the daily rush to enjoy the good things in life. Hygge often takes place with family and friends, but you can also hygge (verb) alone, too, maybe with a good book or your favourite TV series.<sup>211</sup> During the long Danish winters, hygge mostly takes place indoors - playing board games or chatting with friends over a hot beverage. But it can also be hyggeligt (adjective) to take a winter walk in nature and observe how plants and animals are coping with the cold weather. During Denmark's short and often unreliable summers, hygge is centred around Danish summer houses - small, basic homes-away-from-home, where Danes tend gardens and throw big lunch or dinner parties that feature delicious locally-grown strawberries. Hygge is about enjoying the simple and good parts of life together with people you care about”” (World Happiness Report cited in Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Denmark, 2021, <https://denmark.dk/people-and-culture/happiness>).<sup>212</sup> According to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Denmark (2021) For a country with fewer than 6 million citizens, Denmark plays an outsize role on the world stage when it comes to sustainable development and the fight for human rights. Denmark is also part of NATO, and the Danish military joins in international missions. As a founding member of the United Nations, Denmark has committed itself for decades to a substantial role in the global fight for human rights and the eradication of poverty. Denmark is one of only 5 countries in the world that meets the UN goal for rich countries of providing a minimum of 0.7 of gross national income for development assistance. A portion of Danish development aid is channelled through the UN, the European Union, the World Bank and other multinational bodies, while another portion is earmarked for Danida, the Danish Development Assistance. Danida fights poverty and helps improve education in several developing countries. Fighting terrorism, helping countries avoid conflict and collapse. global peace and stability. The Danish armed forces have a long tradition of delivering reliable and effective contributions in peacekeeping and related international missions. Denmark's international engagement is multifaceted and includes the deployment of military personnel, police, and civilian specialists, including humanitarian rescue workers. Denmark also engages actively in fragile states in order to ensure facilitate free and fair elections and encourage good government. Activism for universal human rights, against torture. Denmark is at the forefront of the fight for universal human rights and has ratified a wide range of intergovernmental human rights obligations. The Danes are also active players in achieving a world without torture as a leader in the cross-regional Convention Against Torture Initiative together with Chile, Ghana, Indonesia and Morocco. The idea is to help states ratify and implement the UN convention against torture as successfully as they can. In its development efforts Denmark also works to uphold the rule of law and eradicate all types of discrimination - including gender discrimination - and promote respect for minorities and indigenous people<sup>213</sup> (Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Denmark, 2021, <https://denmark.dk/society-and-business/denmark-in-the-world>).<sup>214</sup>“The government system is a constitutional monarchy; the chief of state is the queen, and the head of government is the prime minister. There are more than 550 American subsidiaries established in Denmark and a strong American Chamber of Commerce with approximately 275 members. Denmark's major imports from the United States are industrial machinery, capital equipment, computers and telecom products, software, aircraft, and scientific instruments. Other important U.S. exports to Denmark are military equipment, chemicals and pharmaceuticals, tobacco, wine, fresh vegetables, nuts, and forest products (The International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 2021, <https://www.trade.gov/knowledge-product/denmark-market-overview>). ## 8.5 Conclusion

It can therefore be concluded that the Republic of Ghana's richness in terms of natural resources (minerals) significantly improved its economic strength over the past decades and this ultimately led to the west African nation significantly: improving the quality of life of its people, investing in effective education systems, achieving global recognition for its highly attractive tourist sector via investing in vast modern infrastructure development projects and becoming a top exporter of gold and cocoa on the continent of Africa. Today Denmark is undoubtedly globally recognized as the most happiest nation on planet earth that enjoys a high expectancy rate, an effective social system, democracy, clean natural environment, peace, a stable market economy and so on. It can also be concluded that Spain is one of the 'Most Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World' as a result of its significant investments towards infrastructure development and better health care.

8.6 Discussion questions

- 1) Briefly define the following terms 'peace' and 'positive peace'?
- 2) Identify the key differences between Spain, the Republic of Ghana & Denmark?
- 3) Discuss in greater detail why Spain, the Republic of Ghana & Denmark are part of the '28 Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World'.

Chapter 9: New Zealand, Kingdom of Sweden & Italy

After reading this chapter you should be able to:

- Define the following terms ‘peacemaking’ and ‘strategic peacebuilding’.
- Discuss the key differences between New Zealand, the Kingdom of Sweden & Italy.
- Explain why New Zealand, the Kingdom of Sweden & Italy are part of the ‘28 Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’.

9.1 Introduction

New Zealand. <sup>216</sup>“Population distribution over three-quarters of New Zealanders, including the indigenous Maori, live on the North Island, primarily in urban areas. Washington, DC: Central Intelligence Agency, 2021. <https://www.cia.gov/the-world-factbook/countries/new-zealand/>). New Zealand is well known globally for its amazing landscapes, mountain ranges, geysers, eye-catching wilderness, eye-catching sports facilities and so on. Italy. The nation of Italy is one of the world’s richest nations whilst at the same time it is also very rich in historical architecture (such as buildings, houses, monuments, universities, museums, theatres, and so on) as this has significantly boosted its highly attractive tourism sector. <sup>217</sup>According to the Legatum Institute Foundation (2020) Overall Prosperity. Italy is 31st in the overall Prosperity Index rankings. Pillar Rankings. Italy performs most strongly in Health and Safety & Security but is weakest in Social Capital (Legatum Institute Foundation, 2020, <https://www.prosperity.com/globe/italy>). Sweden. <sup>218</sup>“It’s a great place for families – it has 16 months of parental leave and free day care services - it invests in green living, has favourable economic growth, is a safe country for women, has transparency in the media and last, but by no means least - it's a beautiful country. It's a great place to grow old. Sweden ranks third overall in the Global AgeWatch Index 2015, which measures the quality of life for older people. Sweden's strengths lie in the capability of its older generation – they have above average employment rates (73.6%) and levels of educational attainment (68.7%).” (Helpage.com, 2015 cited in Global AgeWatch Index, 2015 Gray, A., 2017, <https://www.weforum.org/agenda/2017/01/why-sweden-beats-most-other-countries-at-just-about-everything/>). The following section will cover in-depth aspects related to the definition of terms.

9.2 Define the following terms ‘peacemaking’ and ‘strategic peacebuilding’

Generally there are many definitions that are used in numerous books, career fields and academic journals to define the following terms ‘peacemaking’ and ‘strategic peacebuilding’.<sup>219</sup> According to Conciliation Resources (2021) Peacebuilding seeks to address the underlying causes of conflict, helping people to resolve their differences peacefully and lay the foundations to prevent future violence (Conciliation Resources, 2021, www.c-r.org/). Furthermore, according to Kroc Institute for International Peace Studies, University of Notre Dame (2021) Peacebuilding becomes strategic when it works over the long run and at all levels of society to establish and sustain relationships among people locally and globally. Strategic peacebuilding connects people and groups “on the ground” (community and religious groups, grassroots organizations, etc.) with policymakers and powerbrokers (governments, the United Nations, corporations, banks, etc.)<sup>220</sup> (Kroc Institute for International Peace Studies, University of Notre Dame, 2021, <https://kroc.nd.edu/>). In the following section the differences between New Zealand, the Kingdom of Sweden & Italy will be covered.

The following section will cover aspects about some of the ‘28 Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’ in-depth.

9.4 New Zealand, the Kingdom of Sweden & Italy

It is now inevitable for countries to benchmark their living standards, happiness, prosperity and human rights indexes against each other to become better at everything they do for their citizens whilst boosting their nation brand. Some of the ‘Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’ include the following:

9.4.1 New Zealand

<sup>224</sup>According to the Michigan State University (2021) The government system is a parliamentary democracy and a Commonwealth realm; the chief of state is the queen of the United Kingdom, and the head of government is the prime minister. Government Ministry of Business, Innovation & Employment (2021) New Zealand has been highlighted as the world's most prosperous country outside of Europe in the annual Legatum Prosperity Index. The Prosperity Index is the only global index that uses measurements based on both wealth and wellbeing. Covering 96% of the world's population and 99% of global GDP, the index provides a more complete picture of global prosperity than any other tool of its kind. The country has secured a position in the top ten ranking of this index in terms of prosperity since 2009 showing the ongoing strength of its economy as well as the financial comfort it can offer British emigrants looking to move to New Zealand. When the results are broken down New Zealand also ranks in the top 5 for social capital and particularly high in governance, investment environment and natural environment. Key selling attractions for Brits looking to move to New Zealand are the high quality of life, balanced lifestyle, the stunning scenery, temperate climate and cheaper cost of living. It also offers a solid environment for children so is ideal for families (Legatum Institute Foundation, 2020 cited in New Zealand Government Ministry of Business, Innovation & Employment, 2021, <https://www.newzealandnow.govt.nz/resources/new-zealand-cited-as-most-prosperous-non-european-country>).<sup>227</sup>“Location Oceania, islands in the South Pacific Ocean, southeast of Australia. New Zealand consistently ranks high in measures of business honesty and integrity, and these features tend to offset the small market size. (Population: 5 million.). The foundation of New Zealand’s economy is exporting agricultural commodities such as dairy products, meat, forest products, fruit and vegetables, and wine. Dairy is the lead export commodity. In 2020, New Zealand exports to the U.S. totaled US$4.2 billion, approximately 10% of New Zealand’s total exports. In 2020, New Zealand imports from the U.S. totaled US$3.1 billion. U.S. agricultural machinery, ICT, and healthcare products are key items sold to New Zealand. New Zealand is one of a few countries to have a zero-emissions goal enshrined in law. The act aims to achieve net zero-emissions of almost all greenhouse gases by 2050. For business this means adopting new technologies and investment choices, e.g., introduction of electric vehicle fleets (The International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 2020, <https://www.trade.gov/country-commercial-guides/new-zealand-market-overview>).

9.4.2 Kingdom of Sweden

“The geography of Sweden is mostly flat with mountains in the west. The government system is a constitutional monarchy; the chief of state is the king, and the head of government is the prime minister. Sweden has a mixed economic system in which there is a variety of private freedom, combined with centralized economic planning and government regulation”<sup>230</sup> (Michigan State University, 2021, <https://globaledge.msu.edu/countries/sweden>). <sup>231</sup>““Background A military power during the 17th century, Sweden has not participated in any war for two centuries. An armed neutrality was preserved in both World Wars. Since then, Sweden has pursued a successful economic formula consisting of a capitalist system intermixed with substantial welfare elements. Sweden joined the EU in 1995, but the public rejected the introduction of the euro in a 2003 referendum. The share of Sweden’s population born abroad increased from 11.3% in 2000 to 19.1% in 2018. Location Northern Europe, bordering the Baltic Sea, Gulf of Bothnia, Kattegat, and Skagerrak, between Finland and Norway. Climate temperate in south with cold, cloudy winters and cool, partly cloudy summers; subarctic in north. Terrain mostly flat or gently rolling lowlands; mountains in west. Natural resources iron ore, copper, lead, zinc, gold, silver, tungsten, uranium, arsenic, feldspar, timber, hydropower. Ethnic groups Swedish 80.3%, Syrian 1.9%, Iraqi 1.4%, Finnish 1.4%, other 15% (2020 est.). note: data represent the population by country of birth; the indigenous Sami people are estimated to number between 20,000 and 40,000. Languages Swedish (official). Government type parliamentary constitutional monarchy. Independence 6 June 1523 (Gustav VASA elected king of Sweden, marking the abolishment of the Kalmar Union between Denmark, Norway, and Sweden). National holiday National Day, 6 June (1983); note - from 1916 to 1982 this date was celebrated as Swedish Flag Day. Legal system civil law system influenced by Roman-Germanic law and customary law. International law organization participation accepts compulsory ICJ jurisdiction with reservations; accepts ICCt jurisdiction. Sweden remains outside the euro zone largely out of concern that joining the European Economic and Monetary Union would diminish the country's sovereignty over its welfare system. Timber, hydropower, and iron ore constitute the resource base of a manufacturing economy that relies heavily on foreign trade. Exports, including engines and other machines, motor vehicles, and telecommunications equipment, account for more than 44% of GDP. ## 9.5 Conclusion

Today the great nation of New Zealand is much loved by its citizens and foreign visitors for its beautiful landscapes, healthy lifestyle, pristine wildlife and friendly people. It can be concluded that New Zealand is indeed a nation of discovery, economic prosperity, adventure, natural experiences and better quality of life. Italy's nation brand is strengthened by its highly functional health sector and its participation towards global humanitarian initiatives aimed at eliminating poverty, civil wars, human rights violations, lack of access to better health care and so on. It can therefore be concluded that the Kingdom of Sweden is globally renowned for its outstanding

9.6 Discussion questions

- 1) Briefly define the following terms ‘peacemaking’ and ‘strategic peacebuilding’?
- 2) List the key differences between New Zealand, the Kingdom of Sweden & Italy?
- 3) Discuss in greater detail why New Zealand, the Kingdom of Sweden & Italy are part of the ‘28 Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’?

Chapter 10: European Union (EU) Member States

After reading this chapter you should be able to:

- Define the following terms ‘dialogue’ and ‘national dialogue’. Describe what is the ‘European Union’ & the ‘Schengen area’.
- Discuss the origins of the European Union. Identify the key goals & values of the European Union. Explain the features of the European Union flag. Describe the Anthem of the European Union.
- Discuss how the European Union works. Explain why European Union Member States are part of the ‘Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’.

10.1 Introduction

Over the past decades’ most of the world’s powerful and rich developed nations discovered that living and working in silos slows down their pace towards achieving prosperity, innovation, nation branding and military strength. The formation of closer ties with ‘like minded’ nations became a priority since they were all aiming to achieve the same vision and goals despite having different national boundaries. Regional integration became a strategic priority for most of the developed nations and this led to many treaties and regional bodies being established around the world. The European Union is a culture rich, travel adventure, pro-democracy & protection of human rights, peacebuilding, pro-education & health, climate friendly, powerful, globally celebrated and much loved regional body that was founded in Western Europe. Most of the European Union Member States are consecutively ranked as having the highest quality of life and resources in the world for the past number of years. <sup>242</sup>“Since 1957, the European Union has benefited its citizens by working for peace and prosperity. It helps protect our basic political, social and economic rights. Peace & Security. Central and western Europe has never known so long a period without war. The EU is the most successful peace project in human history and has been awarded the Nobel Peace Prize. Europeans are closely linked economically and culturally,

The following section will cover in-depth aspects related to the definition of terms.

10.2 Define the following terms ‘dialogue’ and ‘national dialogue’

There are various definitions that are used in different fields of study and generally these help readers to better understand complex words or terms in numerous books, articles, magazines, academic journals and so on. There are many definitions of the term dialogue in academic publications and dictionaries. The term ‘dialogue’ refers to any form of planned interaction, communication, talking or liaising of two or more individuals or groups with the aim of creating a mutual, consensual, joint, viable and meaningful long lasting outcome/decision from the planned conversation whilst at the same time ensuring that bias is eliminated by any means necessary during the dialogue process (Rudolph. Patrick. Tawanda. Muteswa, 2022).<sup>243</sup> “National dialogue is an increasingly popular tool for conflict resolution and political transformation. It can broaden debate regarding a country’s trajectory beyond the usual elite decision makers; however, it can also be misused and manipulated by leaders to consolidate their power. National dialogues are becoming an increasingly popular tool for conflict resolution and political transformation” (Stigant, S. & Murray, E. of The United States Institute of Peace, 2015, <https://www.usip.org/publications/2015/10/national-dialogues-tool-conflict-transformation>). The following section will cover aspects about the ‘European Union’ & the Schengen area’ in-depth.

10.3 What is the ‘European Union’ & the ‘Schengen area’

a unique economic and political union between 27 EU countries that together cover much of the continent. The predecessor of the EU was created in the aftermath of the Second World War. The first steps were to foster economic cooperation: the idea being that countries that trade with one another become economically interdependent and so more likely to avoid conflict. The result was the European Economic Community (EEC), created in 1958, and initially increasing economic cooperation between six countries: Belgium, Germany, France, Italy, Luxembourg and the Netherlands. Since then, 22 other members joined and a huge single market (also known as the 'internal' market) has been created and continues to develop towards its full potential. On 31 January 2020 the United Kingdom left the European Union. What began as a purely economic union has evolved into an organization spanning policy areas, from climate, environment and health to external relations and security, justice and migration. A name change from the European Economic Community (EEC) to the European Union (EU) in 1993 reflected this. Stability, a single currency, mobility and growth. The EU has delivered more than half a century of peace, stability and prosperity, helped raise living standards and launched a single European currency: the euro. More than 340 million EU citizens in 19 countries now use it as their currency and enjoy its benefits. Thanks to the abolition of border controls between EU countries, people can travel freely throughout most of the continent. And it has become much easier to live, work and travel abroad in Europe. All EU citizens have the right and freedom to choose in which EU country they want to study, work or retire. Every EU country must treat EU citizens in exactly the same way as its own citizens for employment, social security and tax purposes. The EU's main economic engine is the single market. It enables most goods, services, money and people to move freely. The EU aims to develop this huge resource to other areas like energy, knowledge and capital markets to ensure that Europeans can draw the maximum benefit from it. Transparent and democratic institutions. The EU remains focused on making its governing institutions more transparent and democratic. Decisions are taken as openly as possible and as closely as possible to the citizen. More powers have been given to the directly elected European Parliament, while national parliaments play a greater role, working alongside

In this area, people can travel from country to country freely and easily. They do not have to go through checks and controls when they pass from one country to another. Thanks to the Schengen Area, it is now easier for people to travel for work or tourism. The Schengen Area was made in 1985. Today 22 out of the 27 countries of the European Union are part of the Schengen Area. These countries are:

- Austria • Belgium • Czechia • Denmark • Estonia • Finland • France • Germany • Greece
- Hungary • Italy • Latvia • Lithuania • Luxembourg • Malta • Netherlands • Poland • Portugal
- Slovakia • Slovenia • Spain • Sweden

Also, 4 countries outside the European Union are part of the Schengen Area:

- Iceland • Liechtenstein • Norway • Switzerland

That means that people can travel freely and easily from one of these countries to another. This way it is easier for people to visit any of these countries for tourism or for work” (European Union, 2021, https://europa.eu/european-union/about-eu/easy-to-read\_en). ## 10.4 Origins of the European Union

According to the European Union (2021) The idea to make the European Union came after two big wars happened in Europe. Countries in Europe saw that it is better to work together than fighting against each other. Figure 10.1 helps to show the origins of the European Union (European Union, 2021, https://europa.eu/european-union/about-eu/easy-to-read\_en).

<sup>248</sup>“In the beginning, only 6 countries in Europe started working together:

• Belgium • Germany • France • Italy • Luxembourg • Netherlands

Soon, more and more countries in Europe joined them and the European Union was made.

Today, 27 countries are part of the European Union. These countries are:

• Austria • Belgium • Bulgaria • Croatia • Cyprus • Czechia • Denmark • Estonia • Finland • France • Germany • Greece • Hungary • Ireland • Italy • Latvia • Lithuania • Luxembourg • Malta • Netherlands • Poland • Portugal • Romania • Slovakia • Slovenia • Spain • Sweden

In June 2016 the United Kingdom decided to stop being part of the European Union. So from 31 January 2020, the United Kingdom is no longer part of the European Union” (European Union,

10.5 Key goals & values of the European Union

<sup>249</sup>According to the European Union (2021) All countries that are part of the European Union work together to make sure that:

- there is peace in Europe
- people have good lives
- things are fair for all people and nobody is left out
- the languages and cultures of all people are respected
- there is a strong European economy and countries use the same coin to do business together (European Union, 2021, https://europa.eu/european-union/about-eu/easy-to-read\_en). <sup>250</sup>“Goals and values of the EU. Goals. The goals of the European Union are:

- promote peace, its values and the well-being of its citizens
- offer freedom, security and justice without internal borders

- sustainable development based on balanced economic growth and price stability, a highly competitive market economy with full employment and social progress, and environmental protection
- combat social exclusion and discrimination
- promote scientific and technological progress
- enhance economic, social and territorial cohesion and solidarity among EU countries
- respect its rich cultural and linguistic diversity
- establish an economic and monetary union whose currency is the euro” (European Union, 2021, <https://europa.eu/european-union/>).

10.5.1 Values of the European Union

The different values of the European Union are depicted by Figure 10.2 below.

Furthermore, according to the European Union (2021) Values. The EU values are common to the EU countries in a society in which inclusion, tolerance, justice, solidarity and non-discrimination prevail. <sup>251</sup>These values are an integral part of our European way of life:

- Human dignity

Human dignity is inviolable. It must be respected, protected and constitutes the real basis of fundamental rights.

- Freedom

Freedom of movement gives citizens the right to move and reside freely within the Union. Individual freedoms such as respect for private life, freedom of thought, religion, assembly, expression and information are protected by the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights.

• Democracy

The functioning of the EU is founded on representative democracy. Being a European citizen also means enjoying political rights. Every adult EU citizen has the right to stand as a candidate and to vote in elections to the European Parliament. EU citizens have the right to stand as candidate and to vote in their country of residence, or in their country of origin.

• Equality

Equality is about equal rights for all citizens before the law. The principle of equality between women and men underpins all European policies and is the basis for European integration. It applies in all areas. The principle of equal pay for equal work became part of the Treaty of Rome in 1957. Although inequalities still exist, the EU has made significant progress.

• Rule of law

The EU is based on the rule of law. Everything the EU does is founded on treaties, voluntarily and democratically agreed by its EU countries. Law and justice are upheld by an independent judiciary. The EU countries gave final jurisdiction to the European Court of Justice which judgements have to be respected by all.

• Human rights

Human rights are protected by the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights. These cover the right to be free from discrimination on the basis of sex, racial or ethnic origin, religion or belief, disability, age or sexual orientation, the right to the protection of your personal data, and the right to get access to justice.

These goals and values form the basis of the EU and are laid out in the Lisbon Treaty and the EU Charter of fundamental rights. In 2012, the EU was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize for advancing the causes of peace, reconciliation, democracy and human rights in Europe<sup>252</sup>

The following section will cover aspects about the anthem of the European Union in-depth.

10.7 What is the Anthem of the European Union

According to the European Union (2021) Every country has a melody that better shows its values and culture as a country. This melody is called ‘anthem’. The European Union has its own anthem too. In 1985, people who make decisions in the European Union chose a melody of a very important composer to be the anthem of the European Union. This composer is called Ludwig van Beethoven. The melody shows how important it is that all people are free, live in peace and stand by each other. The European Union believes in these values and that is why it has chosen this melody to be its anthem (European Union, 2021, https://europa.eu/european-union/about-eu/easy-to-read\_en). The European Union listening link will be depicted in Figure 10.5 below.

10.8 How the European Union works

““The European Union has 3 main bodies:

- the European Commission

The people of the European Commission suggest laws for the European Union.

- <sup>255</sup>the European Parliament

<sup>256</sup>These 3 bodies are very important for the European Union. They work closely together to make things better in Europe:

- The European Commission suggests laws.
- The European Parliament and the Council of the European Union discuss these laws and decide if they want these laws to happen in Europe.
- If they decide that a law must happen in Europe, all countries of the European Union must work to make this law happen in them. Other bodies that are important for the European Union are:
  - The Court of Justice of the European Union that makes sure that all laws happen correctly in the European Union.
  - the Court of Auditors that checks if the money of the <sup>257</sup>European Union is spent in the right way.

There are also other bodies of the European Union that are doing important work. For example, there are bodies that:

- check if the European Union works in the right way and respects the rights of all people.
- publish useful information about the European Union.
- choose the people who have the skills to work for the European Union.
- stand for the rights of all people in Europe like people with disabilities, workers and others.

The following section will cover aspects about why the European Union is part of the ‘Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’ in-depth.

10.9 Why the European Union is part of the ‘Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’?

There are various reasons why the European Union is part of the ‘Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’. In general the achievements, values and goals of the European Union are all part of the reasons why it has beautiful countries that are globally ranked as having high quality life, freedoms, peace, powerful international statures, equality and so on. Some of the key achievements of the European Union which this book helps to highlight as the main reasons why the European Union is categorized/included as part of the ‘Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’ are further discussed below.

10.9.1 ““Key European Union achievements and tangible benefits. Key achievements. Since 1957, the European Union has achieved great things for its citizens and the world:

- a continent at peace
- freedom for its citizens to live, study or work anywhere in the EU
- the world’s biggest single market
- aid and development assistance for millions of people worldwide

10.9.1.1 Peace and stability. The EU has delivered over half a century of peace, stability and prosperity. It also plays an important role in diplomacy and works to promote these same benefits – as well as democracy, fundamental freedoms and the rule of law – across the globe. In 2012, the EU was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize for its achievements in this field. 70 years of lasting peace

- The EU’s common foreign & security policy is designed to resolve conflicts and promote international understanding, based on diplomacy and respect for international rules.

10.9.1.2 <sup>258</sup>Single market. The EU's main economic engine is the single market. It enables most goods, services, money and people to move freely throughout most of the continent. It has certainly become much easier to move around Europe – all EU citizens have the right to study, work or retire in any EU country. As an EU national, for employment, social security and tax purposes, every EU country is required to treat you exactly the same as its own citizens.

- Euro – used by over 340 million EU citizens, the euro has eliminated the risk of currency fluctuation and exchange costs, and strengthened the single market – to the benefit of us all.

- Telephone & digital services – you can use your phone and online services at no extra cost across the EU, thanks to the end of roaming rules.

10.9.1.3 Citizens' rights and protections. The Treaty on the European Union gives EU citizens and legal residents a wide range of rights, enacted in EU law across many fields.

Charter of fundamental rights. The Charter brings together all the personal, civic, political, economic and social rights enjoyed by people within the EU.

EU Charter of fundamental rights

10.9.1.3.1 Employment rights

Every EU worker enjoys certain minimum rights relating to health and safety at work; equal opportunities; protection against all forms of discrimination; and labour laws.

10.9.1.3.2 Digital rights

<sup>259</sup>The EU has taken a strong stance to protect individual rights and personal information in its data protection and privacy laws, to ensure we all have more control over our personal data.

- Right to be forgotten

10.9.1.3.3 Consumer rights

EU consumers can feel safe in the knowledge that they will get their money back if they return unwanted products, and will receive a refund if they experience any avoidable delays or cancellations while travelling.

10.9.1.4 Business, growth and trade. The EU is the largest trade bloc in the world. It is the world's biggest exporter of manufactured goods and services, and the biggest import market for over 100 countries. Free trade among its members was one of the EU's founding principles. This is possible thanks to the single market. Beyond its borders, the EU is also committed to liberalising world trade.

10.9.1.4.1 Business

The EU has ensured that you're protected against the downsides of globalisation through EU support for small businesses and rules to make sure big companies pay their fair share of tax. The EU can also help if you've been treated unfairly as a business owner. Successful EU programmes like Erasmus+ can help you help you get training to make the most of your career.

- Defending business owners' rights

10.9.1.4.2 Trade

The EU has achieved a strong position by acting together with one voice on the global stage, rather than with separate trade strategies. The EU is in prime position when it comes to global trade. The openness of our trade regime has meant that the EU is the biggest player on the global trading scene and remains a reliable partner to do business with.

- EU-Singapore free trade agreement

This agreement, signed in 2018, makes it easier for EU firms to export more to Singapore, helps protect people’s rights at work and the environment and opens up Singapore’s markets to EU companies for services and government contracts”” (European Union, 2021, https://european-union.europa.eu/priorities-and-actions/achievements\_en).

10.9.1.5 <sup>260</sup>“Food quality and environmental standards. Because EU countries cooperate so closely, our food and our environment meet some of the world’s highest quality standards.

10.9.1.5.1 Food

Protecting health is the aim of all EU laws and standards in the farming and food sectors. An extensive body of EU-wide law covers the entire food production and processing chain within the EU, as well as imported and exported goods.

10.9.1.5.2 Environment

The EU has developed some of the strictest environmental standards in the world. EU policy seeks to minimise risks to the climate, health and biodiversity.

- Emissions targets already achieved
- Renewable energy/energy transition \(2018 Energy Directive\)

10.9.1.6 <sup>261</sup>International diplomacy & development. EU countries acting in unison have much more of a voice on the world stage than 27 nations of varying size acting separately. Taken together, the EU institutions and national governments are the world's leading donor of development assistance and work collectively to promote good governance, fight hunger and preserve natural resources.

10.9.1.6.1 Diplomacy & security

Through its political, practical and economic support, the EU has played a crucial role in building peace in the Western Balkans since the Yugoslav wars. One example is the EU-facilitated dialogue between Serbia and Kosovo, which led to a landmark deal in April 2013 that is currently being implemented, with EU support.

10.9.1.6.2 Human rights

The EU has developed human rights policy guidelines covering areas such as the death penalty, torture and freedom of expression, both on and offline. The EU's Instrument for Democracy and Human Rights \(EIDHR\) provides support to improve respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms in countries and regions where they are most at risk.

10.9.1.6.3 Humanitarian aid

The EU provides assistance to countries and populations, both within Europe and abroad, when major disasters or humanitarian emergencies strike. Collectively, the EU and its constituent countries are the world's leading donor of humanitarian aid. Every year the EU provides food, shelter, protection, healthcare and clean water to over 120 million victims of disasters and conflict in over 80 countries.

10.9.1.6.4 Aid, development and diplomacy in action

<sup>262</sup>The EU cooperates with governments in 150 partner countries across the developing world, as well as civil society and international organisations. For example, in Haiti the EU provides a number of different forms of aid and development assistance, to help the country develop resilience, resolve structural weaknesses and bring short-term relief to the most vulnerable. Since 1994, the EU has provided Haiti with €419 million in aid to:

- give access to life-saving health services
- distribute emergency shelter in camps and host families
- give access to water and sanitation facilities
- distribute food
- prevent an increase in malnutrition, outbreaks of epidemics and potential civil unrest
- reduce vulnerability in camps

set up early warning systems and strengthen shelters and infrastructure against recurring hurricanes, floods, and other natural hazards”” (European Union, 2021, https://european-union.europa.eu/priorities-and-actions/achievements\_en)

10.10 Conclusion

It can be concluded that the European Union has Member States that all qualify to be recognized as part of the ‘Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’. The European Union is indeed a major key player in the world in terms of diplomacy and security as it invests a lot of its resources towards securing worldwide peace initiatives. Millions of people around the world have immensely benefited from the humanitarian aid of the European Union which focuses on issues such as natural disasters, climate change, health, promotion & protection of human rights, democracy and freedoms programs. The European Union enables its citizens to enjoy affordable information, communication and technology (ICT) services whilst ensuring that their data is well secured under the European Union laws. In addition the European Union Schengen borderless area that allows European Union citizens to freely travel amongst 22 out of 27 Member States while enjoying certain rights stipulated by the European Union laws.

10.11 Discussion questions

- 1) Briefly define the following terms ‘dialogue’ and ‘national dialogue’? Describe what is the ‘European Union’ & the Schengen area’?
- 2) Discuss the origins of the European Union? Identify the key goals & values of the European Union? Explain the features of the European Union flag? Describe the Anthem of the European Union?
- 3) Discuss how the European Union works? Explain why European Union Member States are part of the ‘Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’?
